August Fall Almost Sets Record

Forecast Holds Promise Rain Will Stop Tonight

There was "rain on the roof", through the roof and everywhere else as the skies opened with a vengeance Tuesday and continued to pour down the wet stuff by the buckets full today.

The latest forecast holds hope, however, that the deluge may stop some time tonight. Clearing and cooler is predicted, with Thursday scheduled to be sunny, with little change in temperature.

The drenching rain, which totaled more than 2.5 inches Tuesday and today, has helped break the summer drought and almost set a new "wet" record for the month of August in the tri-state district.

Officials at the Stratton Dam this morning reported 1.74 inches of rain fell since 7 a. m. yesterday.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, said precipitation last month amounted to 6.56 inches, short of the all-time August record of 6.83 inches in 1911. Normal is 3.37 inches.

Copeland said the rain last month, starting on Aug. 8 with 1.55 inches, helped break the drought in the area, saving many crops.

Rain fell on 14 days of the month, almost every other day, he said. There were 10 cloudy days, eight partly cloudy days and 13 clear days for a total of 55 per cent of sunshine, below the normal 65 per cent.

The normal amount of rain for the first eight months of a year is 26.51 inches. This year, the total is 25.08 inches, only 1.43 inches subnormal, he explained, and the current rain is fast making up the difference.

Temperatures last month averaged 67.2 degrees, just under the normal 68.5 degrees for August on his records which go back to 1892.

Gosney Call For Meeting Seen 'Oust-Coleman' Bid

State Democratic circles speculated today that the effort by Don Gosney, Columbiana County chairman, to form a statewide chairmen's organization to work in next year's elections might be an attempt to oust State Chairman William Coleman.

Gosney commented, however, that the proposed organization is not aimed at a circumventing Coleman, but stems from a feeling that "we in Ohio as Democrats had better do something. There are only three or four months before the filing deadline and the picture is not very clear to anybody."

He continued: "There is no question but that the Democratic party in Ohio needs leadership. We don't have a state official and nobody in one county knows about the thinking in the others. But we're not anti-anybody. We're pro - Democratic party."

Democratic county chairmen have been asked to meet in Akron next Wednesday to discuss forming an organization similar to one which functioned for a time before the 1964 election.

Gosney said all 88 county chairmen have been invited to the Akron session, a followup to a meeting of 11 chairmen last month.

Coleman said at Columbus he had no plans to be at the meeting. He also said he did not think all county chairmen had been invited.

Indications are that a chairmen's organization, if formed, might work to coordinate campaign strategy and possibly even try to reach agreement on candidates for statewide office.

Road Rites May Move To Council Chambers

A ceremony this afternoon at 3 for dedication of the St. Clair Ave. project probably will be held in the Council chambers at City Hall instead of its scheduled site at the Riverview Cemetery entrance.

Keeping a watchful eye on the dark skies, Mayor George E. Willshaw said this morning the shift to City Hall would be made if the rain still persisted at noon.

The ceremony will attract representatives of the State Highway Department, the city government and the Chamber of Commerce. Principal participants will be the mayor, Earl Nelson, head of the Division 11 Highway Department office in New Philadelphia, and Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the Chamber's highway committee.

'Kent' Sets New Deadline For Students

The deadline for applications for admission of new and transfer students to the East Liverpool Area Center of Kent State University has been extended until Friday, John G. Hedrick, director, said today.

The deadline originally had been set for today, but was extended because some potential students were delaying application pending the outcome of steel negotiations, the director said.

Registration for classes will be held Saturday from 1 to 4 p. m. at the center's office in the IBOP building on W. 6th St. Fees will be payable at that time.

Some 195 students already have pre-enrolled this week and will be required to pay only fees on Saturday, Hedrick said. The heavy enrollment has forced the university to close some classes, he added.

The university bookstore also will be open at the center office from noon until 4 p. m. Saturday when textbooks may be purchased.

The ACT test for all new students, who haven't taken it, will be administered Saturday at 10 a. m. at the high school. An arithmetic test for students enrolled in the College of Education will be given at 9 a. m., he continued.

Ohio Legislature Adjourns

Final Legislative Defeat Handed Apportion Plan

'Save Face' Issue Loses By 76 To 55

Capital Funds Bill Of $278 Million Is Passed By Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Final defeat of the legislative reapportioment proposal and an abortive effort described by some as an effort to save face on the issue featured an 11 ½-hour delay-punctuated session which led to adjournment of the 106th General Assembly early today.

The last of several plans for reapportioning the Ohio House in line with the U. S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" edict fell by the wayside in the House, just six votes short of the three-fifths majority needed for passage.

The 76-55 vote made it a virtual certainty that the job will be left to the federal courts.

Later, in the move seen by many statehouse observers as a last ditch effort to save face, the House passed 77-36 a resolution calling upon Congress to call a constitutional convention to submit an amendment allowing states to apportion one house of state legislatures by factors other than population.

The resolution had been dormant in committee since May 10—six days after Ohio voters defeated a reapportionment proposal at the polls.

It died today when the Senate declined to act on it.

The second big obstacle to final adjournment, the $278 million capital improvements bill, was passed unanimously in the Senate.

The bill had been held up the past two months by a dispute involving an unsuccessful effort

Emergency Talks Enter Third Day

Steel Union Negotiators Claim White House Guidelines Too Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — Emergency steel talks, under heavy presidential and congressional pressure, enter the third day today with union negotiators reportedly arguing that White House wage guidelines are too low.

President Johnson, continuing to urge a noninflationary settlement, was joined by House and Senate Democratic leaders in warning that a strike would hurt the nation's economy and security.

A strike deadline scheduled at 12:01 a.m. today was postponed until 12:01 a.m. Sept. 9 at Johnson's request.

A strike would idle 450,000 steelworkers and shut down about 80 per cent of the nation's steel industry.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor continued efforts to compromise the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers' demand for a wage and fringe benefits increase of 53 cents an hour over three years and the industry's last offer of 40.6 cents.

Unverified reports that the 10 major steel companies had offered to raise the ante for a settlement were denied by a high administration source.

However, another reliable source said the industry had been ready to boost its offer slightly at the time the talks were moved here from Pittsburgh Monday. The union reportedly also was prepared to make concessions, dropping its demand to 48.9 cents.

The union reportedly was citing new Commerce Department figures in arguing that White House wage guidelines of 3.2 per cent should be boosted to at least 3.4 per cent.

A White House source indicated the union would get nowhere with the argument.

"It's not at all that simple," the source said in conceding that new government figures showed a higher gross national product in recent years than previously reported.

The source said the guidelines might be revised upward next year, but not now.

Johnson has strongly hinted he will stick to his insistence that the industry grant a settlement in the 3.2 per cent range without a steel price hike.

A 3.2 per cent increase would amount to a three-year package of 42 cents on top of Steelworkers present wage and

No Shutdown Is Due At Mill In Midland

The Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. will continue operations regardless of the outcome of negotiations now under way between the union and management.

Crucible is in a different bargaining position than other major producers because of its emphasis on specialty steels.

'Space Twins' Still Talking With Experts

Reliving Historic 8-Day Trip; Notes Go To Space Center

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The medically sound Gemini 5 astronauts today continue the tedious task of reliving their historic eight-day space flight for technical and medical experts.

Hour after hour, L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr., talk into tape recorders. The recordings and other notes are rushed daily to the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, Tex. There, specialists combine the information with telemetry data radioed during the flight.

The specialists are preparing for more detailed talks about the performance of various spacecraft systems. These will start Thursday when Cooper and Conrad return to Houston for brief reunions with their families and then seven more days of seclusion.

In Washington, the White House announced that "each military astronaut will receive a promotion of one grade as a direct result of his first successful space flight." This means that Conrad, a Navy lieutenant commander, will be promoted to commander. Cooper was promoted to lieutenant colonel in the Air Force after his earlier Mercury flight.

Tri-State Gets East End Job

Thoroughfare Due Blacktop Surface

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of East Liverpool and Martins Ferry submitted the apparent low bid to the State Highway Department at Columbus Tuesday for blacktop resurfacing of East End's main thoroughfare —Pennsylvania Ave., Elizabeth St. and Harvey Ave.

Tri-State submitted a lump sum bid of $198,663 for the East Liverpool project and three others in Columbiana and Jefferson Counties that will be awarded as one contract. The state's estimate on the four jobs was $206,900.

In addition to the local job, the bid covers resurfacing of

Johnson Weaponry In Stalemates

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's weaponry for sessions with past stalemated contract negotiators included veiled threats and warm praise, anecdotes and lectures, a man who has seen him in action said today.

"You don't forget that he's the President — and you don't forget that this is a very tough guy," reported this witness to sessions at which Johnson forestalled a national railway strike.

"He just hangs on and hangs on until he gets what he's after," the man added. He asked that his name not be used.

What Johnson is after now is a contract settlement to avert a strike in the nation's steel industry. A scant six hours after he set negotiators to work in the Executive Office Building, next door to the White House, Johnson announced Monday night an eight-day postponement of the threatened walkout, which had been scheduled at 12:01 a.m. today.

So far, at least, the White House has not reported any personal Johnson missions to the steel bargaining table. But the President was said to be keeping in close touch, through his aides, with the sessions at which Steelworkers President I. W. Abel and industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper are negotiating under the eye of government mediators.

In the rail industry talks, Johnson's first target was a 15-day strike postponement. He got it 90 minutes before the strike deadline of April 10, 1964. Thirteen days later, the complex, five-year-old dispute hinging on railroad work rules was settled.

A key session in that dispute came in the Cabinet room, with about 20 people on hand. Johnson talked to both sides, but the man who was there said union representatives balked at the postponement plea.

Johnson, the witness said, led union men out of the Cabinet room and into his private office. Later, when they filed out of his office, the President said they had agreed to the delay.

The source said Johnson confided later that he had talked to some of them in his bathroom. The President, this man said, called it "my outhouse meeting."

He also told of a complaint to Johnson from President Charles Luna of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Luna, he said, complained talk of compulsory arbitration on Capitol Hill was a noose around labor's neck. Johnson, pressing his plea

North, South Marked With Racial Strife

2 Men Wounded In Carolina City; 3 In Chicago Hospital

By The Associated Press

Racial troubles erupted into violence in both the North and South Tuesday night as two White men were wounded in a free-for-all fight in Plymouth, N.C., and three Negroes were hospitalized in Chicago.

Tensions in Plymouth had been so high that civil rights leaders called off a scheduled demonstration. But seven Negroes walking down Main Street in the eastern North Carolina town were confronted by a group of whites, touching off the shooting in which one white man was injured and the fight in which another was stabbed.

The Chicago trouble began when about 40 demonstrators, mostly Negroes, picketed the home of Schools Supt. Benjamin Willis. He has been the target of protests of those dissatisfied with racial distribution of pupils in Chicago schools.

Demonstrators began to lie down in the heavily traveled intersection of Sheridan Road and Bryn Mawr Ave. and police arrested 14, subduing some with clubs.

Water Safety Course Ends

Seven area residents are enrolled for the final week of instruction in the East Liverpool Red Cross Chapter's water safety instructors course.

All have completed the first 15 hours of the 30-hour course which has been taught Bob Bushman of Weirtor.

The current session is being taught by Dominic Morrell, native of Rochester, Pa., who is the Red Cross Eastern Area first aid, small craft and water safety instructor.

Enrolled in the course are Barbara Hacker, Dave Martin and Bonnie Pierce of East Liverpool, Sharon Penn, Janet Birch and Hugh Nile of Wellsville and Eunice Petkovich of Hookstown.

Morrell, former physical education teacher, served as a volunteer in the Beaver County Red Cross for many years, and joined the Red Cross staff in 1955 in its service to the military. In 1960 he transferred to the water and first aid service.

The chapter will end its summer swimming program Thursday with a picnic for all who volunteered as instructors and aides in the water safety courses at Thompson Park.

The event will be held at Shelter No. 3 at the park, Miss Mary Catherine Brady, executive director, said.

One Of Old Buildings In City Will Be Razed

Razing of one of the oldest buildings in the city, the front section of the former American Paper Products Co. on Walnut and E. 3rd Sts., will begin in about two weeks to make room for a service station.

The building will be torn down from E. 3rd St. back 90 feet along Walnut. On the east section of the front, it will be torn down back 80 feet.

This will leave standing a newer section which was added in 1940.

The section to be razed at one time was a pottery.

It housed the former Phoenix Pottery, which was in operation prior to the Civil War.

Will Brunt Jr. and William Bloor procured the defunct Woodward and Blakely Plant in 1859. They divided the purchase, with Bloor taking the section south of High Alley facing on Walnut and E. 3rd Sts.

In 1862, Brunt took over this operation, naming the combined plants the Phoenix Pottery. Brunt joined the Union Army and sold the upper plant to the Hall China Co. on his return.

He continued operations in the old Bloor section. It later was named the William Brunt Sons & Co. and in 1894 was incorporated as the William Brunt Pottery Co. Later the entire section became part of Hall China Co.

The pottery then passed through several hands, later housing the American Paper Products Co.

Gloeckner said the front section will be on the same grade level as Buddy's, a drive-in restaurant he also owns.

The new gasoline station will consist of the pump island, covered with a canopy. Gloeckner said it will be operated by girls, a relatively new idea in the business.

Meeting Set At Wellsville On Bond Vote

A joint meeting of all officers of Wellsville Parent - Teacher Associations will be held tonight at 7:30 in the visual education room of Daw Junior High School to discuss the proposed bond issue and building program.

Members of the PTA executive committees also have been invited. Letters have been sent to fraternal, civic and veteran organizations inviting them to send two representatives to the session.

Tentative plans call for the formation of a Citizens Committee to inform the general public of the program, which calls for a new elementary building and improvements to several of the existing schools.

The community must approve a bond issue in order for the Board of Education to receive state aid on the project.

3 Auto Mishaps Linked With Rain

Three auto accidents blamed on the heavy rains and slick streets were reported Tuesday afternoon by Wellsville police.

Police said Ensinger was headed east on Clark when he lost control of the car. The vehicle spun around and then slid into the porch.

At 3:15 p. m. a car operated by Edward James Broderick, 609 Broadway, was bumped in the rear by another driven by Mrs. Donald Hickman, 2206 Danbury Ave., at the corner of 3rd St. and Broadway. The accident was reported at the police headquarters.

Cars operated by Valmond Rice of the Wells Hollow Rd. and James M. Clark, 602 Commerce St., were involved in a crash at 3:40 p. m. on Wells Ave.

Rice slowed for a traffic light and his car was hit in the rear by the Clark car. The brakes on Clark's car were wet and failed to stop the vehicle, officers reported. No charges were filed.

Is It Collective Bargaining?

He is holding the negotiators to the grindstone to avert a strike.

Critics will charge that he has intervened in a private matter.

Apologists will retort that he is using his authority to keep the steel industry from inflicting a grievous hurt on the nation and itself.

If a settlement is forced under White House pressure, Mr. Johnson will be blamed by labor because it didn't get enough and by management because labor got too much. No one will be happy.

Theoreticians will gnaw their lips, no matter which way the steel settlement goes, and wonder whither collective bargaining—and why.

All of us should be wondering about this.

Collective bargaining isn't living up to the theory on which its legal foundation was constructed laboriously in the 20th century.

In theory, collective bargaining was quid pro quo—something for something—a deal between teams of bargainers acting in good faith and good conscience.

It was to be the essence of Yankee give and take, the quintessence of private enterprise and individual responsibility for the common good.

It embodied the all-American proposition that nothing was too tough to be worked out by honest, forthright men sitting around a table and talking out their problems.

So much for theory.

What about practice?

Why is it necessary for the president of the United States to break deadlocks in collective bargaining?

Why must the nation's chief executive put his prestige on the line every time negotiators run out the clock in fruitless bargaining and depend on the White House to bail them out?

What sense does it make to turn the president of the United States into a referee for a phony wrestling match between contestants going through the motions of bona fide bargaining?

Does anyone want to bet Lyndon Johnson will not be cursed by both sides in the steel negotiations, despite the obvious fact they have been stalling and stooging until he stepped in to avert a strike?

Does anyone seriously claim this is collective bargaining — this tail - chasing 'round and 'round mulberry bushes while steel workers gnaw their knuckles, management contrives ways of weathering threatened shutdowns, customers stock steel against a shutdown and the nation's economy is warped first by the threat of a strike, then by inability to absorb production because of stockpiling?

If this is collective bargaining — if this is the best practice that can be squeezed out of the theory of collective bargaining —there needs to be a revision of concepts.

The President of the United States should not have to pull apart the contestants in every large-scale negotiation over a labor contract.

Free enterprise and free labor are abdicating their responsibility every time they make the White House intervene to avert a strike.

Too Soon

What happened to August?

What happened to July and June?

September has come on stage too soon. It picked up the wrong cue.

This should still be the scene in which families are planning vacations and waiting for gardens to grow.

Farmers should be waiting for field corn to tassel. Gardeners should be watching little green tomatoes grow into big red tomatoes.

The kids should be getting keyed up for camp. Baseball buffs should be wondering who will be on top by the Fourth of July.

It's too soon for Labor Day, school, football and furnaces.

September can go back off stage and wait in the wings, as far as we're concerned.

Object: To Find The Guilty

Recently, the American Law Institute suggested there ought to be a new code of procedure to govern police investigation of crime and at the same time fully protect individual rights.

This was the result of a sequence of court decisions which seem to be leaning over backward to give all the "breaks" to the accussed. Criminals have been let off not because they were innocent but because along the line somewhere a cop had taken an "unreasonable" time to question them, or because of some other technicality raised by the courts themselves.

Chief Judge Bazelon of the District of Columbia court of appeals wrote Atty. Gen. Katzenbach complaining of some provisions in a preliminary draft of a code of pre-arraignment procedure. The tone of his comment was all to the effect that without sincere restraints the police were likely to transgress individual rights.

In any case, Mr. Katzenbach's reply to the judge puts the whole issue back in perspective—and rebuts the rising trend of court theories which seem to forget the real purpose of justice.

Obviously, he says, any police practices such as torture or beatings are "incompatible with decent law enforcement." But that is no longer the question. The question is whether the police have enough latitude to get to the bottom of a crime. On this point, Mr. Katzenbach aptly said, the judges have left the public behind, and even the simplest investigation has been made suspect.

As a result, the attorney general said, the consistency and fairness of justice have suffered.

The purpose of investigation is to sort out the innocent from the guilty. When investigation is shackled to the point of uselessness, it is possible the innocent may be accused and probable the guilty will escape.

This is an injustice to society, which ought to have its rights respected too, along with those of erring members.

We commend Mr. Katzenbach's letter to the courts as a model exposition of the purposes of law enforcement.

Coming To Terms

If Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and former Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona would quit disagreeing about the relative influence of governors and legislators on two-party politics, they might be able to agree on something more important.

The two-party system is built around position and opposition.

One party proposes, the other party opposes.

Every time a party gets frozen into a static pattern of thought, it withers and eventually dies.

Parties must be adaptable to changing circumstances. Otherwise, the parade will move down the street and leave a stick-in-the-mud party standing on the curb.

Governors find it easier to change with the times than legislators. Governors make attractive presidential candidates because they can be presented to voters in ever-changing images of administrative policy, whereas representatives and senators — particularly senators — become ideologists instead of innovators, talkers instead of doers.

What did we think of our vacation train ride?

It was OK.

It was what we expected.

We thought it would be restful. It was.

We thought it would be the best way to see some of the most spectacular scenery in North America. It was.

We thought it would be an adventure. It certainly was that.

But when it's all said and done, the best way to understand why passenger trains are clickety-clacking into oblivion is to ride them.

It's a matter of time.

Would you rather spend it there or getting there?

Trains take too long to get there.

The conveniences they offer, such as dining cars, beds and an endlessly unrolling view of the countryside, are not offset by inconveniences they seemingly cannot surmount.

Railroad stations are archaic.

Many railroad employes have aged as gracelessly as the equipment they work with.

Railroading has lost its bounce — its joie de vivre. It does not pulse and throb. It grinds and grunts.

How long has it been since a male moppet said he wanted to be a railroad engineer?

We rode a special Southern Pacific train called the Shasta Daylight Special from San Francisco to Portland, as we started north to the Canadian Rockies. Its name comes from the hours-long view of Mt. Shasta as the train laboriously climbs into, through and out of the Cascade Range.

This train has been publicized widely. But posted in each car was a notice of discontinuance. My traveling companion and I were the only passengers in the all-reserved-seat coach we had been assigned to when our reservations were made.

On a Canadian Pacific train, a brakeman summed up his feeling about railroad policy while repairmen were undoing the damage of a hot box on a friction bearing. A friction bearing on a modern roller-bearing train?

Yep. On an old-time baggage car hooked up in a high-speed train.

Why, we asked the brakeman, thinking of all the connections that were going to be missed, the expense of staying an extra night in hotels, the inconvenience of cancelling plans and making new ones.

"Because the railroad doesn't much care about what happens to passengers," he said. "The big thing is freight, not people."

Union Pacific Railroad has been doing well in the tourist business, but it, too, could learn things about passenger convenience.

Would we take another multi - thousand-mile train ride to San Francisco, thence north and back home through Canada?

Just name the starting date.

But face it, fellow travelers. Automobiles buzzing over superhighways built with public funds and airplanes whizzing between new airports also built with public funds have the railroads on the ropes.

A Long Way Up

Inside Story Told On Steel Talks

By Victor Riesel

One of President Johnson's labor advisers has been married some two months. But he has had only two or three evenings at home. It's like that when you work for Lyndon Johnson and the crises crackle in chain reactions. You're an account executive in charge of a special upheaval. You're expected to deliver. You generally do.

Victor Riesel

Thus Mr. Johnson has been able to avoid becoming the business agent for embattled unions —something other Presidents have been unable to escape. But the steel crisis has differed from all the others.

This time the President's men have been up against an old-fashioned pro, a man of steel, figuratively and almost literally, namely I. W. (Abe) Abel., the Steelworkers' president who long ago learned that at deadline one can get more out of the White House than from the industry's finance committee.

"ABE" KNEW what he wanted for his 450,000 followers in basic steel production: He and his team of Joe Molony and Walter Burke wanted as much as the other unions won in last year's auto contract, in aerospace and what the Steel Union itself had gained from the aluminum and can industries.

And that's the line "Abe" held despite long conversations with President Johnson himself. But bucking "Abe" was a formidable line up — the heads of the 10 major steel corporations who met most of Sunday, Aug. 29, quite secretly in Pittsburgh's Carlton House As confidentially reported, their viewpoint was that they could meet that wage bill and still modernize and expand to meet foreign competition or make even a slight profit.

They decided to stand pat. They're all good men, on both sides of these negotiations. But the relations are stilted. So there are more ultimatums than there is bargaining.

THE HOLD the line signal was passed to ex-college football star center Conrad Cooper (circa 1924). So "Coop" the industry's chief bargainer asked "Abe" to meet him privately in the U.S. Steel Corp.'s Pittsburgh offices Sunday at 5 p.m. They talked for two hours. They decided neither could budge.

"Coop", as is the practice inside the ultimate sanctum, leveled with "Abe." The U.S. Steel executive said that he had reached the final "mill" point to which he could stretch the industry's offer. "Abe" in effect pointed out that the men in the plants would howl him down if he accepted. They shook hands. They went back to their powerful principals.

Word was flashed to the President's new quarterback, Joe Califano in the White House. He had been coordinating all the messages which had been streaming in from official and unofficial emissaries in New York and Pittsburgh.

Then Califano briefed the President who already knew as much about the crisis as a chief executive could — especially one who had been talking privately with one Arthur Goldberg in Texas.

For the younger set, it should be reported here that Ambassador Goldberg, when he had been counsel to the Steelworkers, had run the 116 day 1959 steel strike. The ambassador knows the Steel Union, even today, as Casey Stengel knows the Mets. (That's where the analogy ends.)

SO THE PRESIDENT reluctantly decided to move a labor crisis into the White House for the second time in his administration. The other involved the railroads.

The chain reaction, quite heated at the beginning, went from the President to Califano, to Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz. The latter telephoned both sides in Pittsburgh to tell them the invitation was coming. Then the newly-married Jim Reynolds, still weary from other crises, called both parties and told them to pack full suitcases--they were coming for the duration.

Abel did not take this lightly. But he's of the old steel-and-coal labor complex. And the generation now under 25 should know that this means that tough labor leaders bargain as did Old King Coal, otherwise known as John L. Lewis. Now well past 85, the white-haired and quickly fatiguuing aging giant always battled at the top. So did the gentler giant, the late Phil Murray, the Steel Union creator.

Lyndon Johnson was aware of all this when he invited both sides in. Actually there was little new except the antagonists' arrival by helicopter on the White House lawn. John Lewis had thundered all through the second big war back in the early '40s.

BUT THIS is the '60s. Certainly there is enough steel for 45 days. And not all the plants would go down. Certainly there is Viet Nam. But there is the economic stability of the nation about which to worry.

It's a matter of the gold balance.

Just eight years ago the U.S. was exporting half a billion dollars more steel annually than was being imported. Today, American buyers are importing a billion dollars more annually than we are selling to foreign customers. This is a loss of $1.5 billion a year. If this trend continues, it could rock the nation and melt our hard currency.

Labor - management feuds shake the confidence of foreign steel buyers in America's ability to deliver.

So the president decided to move in at deadline.

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The annual reunion of the descendants of the late Porter and Rebecca Campbell was held at Thompson Park, with Irvin Campbell re-elected president.

Miss Jean Kathryn Arnold of Ohio Ave. enrolled in Nurses Training School at St. Luke's Hospital, Cleveland.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—The end of the war and the public's hopes for new autos within a few months brought a sharp decline in used car sales in August for the East Liverpool district.

Gordon E. Starkey succeeded Myron Q. Gerber, who moved to Toledo, as president of the Civic Music Association.

TEN YEARS AGO—An anonymous East Liverpool resident who wrote that he had received $40 from Columbiana County relief funds during the depression mailed a check for that amount to Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer, requesting that the money be used "to help others."

Rem-Cru Titanium, Inc., of Midland announced the purchase of five buildings and 10 acres of ground from the Crucible Steel Co. as another step in an expansion program.

U.S. Offers Peace

By David Lawrence

Red China Gets Clear View Of Washington Stand

By this time, the governments of Red China and the Soviet Union have had several days in which to analyze a document containing a comprehensive exposition of the American government's intentions with respect to peace in Viet Nam. If the Communist regimes don't take advantage of the olive branch being offered them, it must be surmised that they still are unaware that, by prolonging the war, they inevitably will risk the devastation of Hanoi by air bombardment and the demoralization of the North Viet Nam government.

David Lawrence

There has been an outpouring of nearly 40,000 words by officials of the United States government and a Republican committee, as well as a State Department news conference, covering every phase of the delicate problem in Viet Nam but the hour-long television program rally built the foundations the Communists are seriously interested.

Not only did Secretary of State Dean Rusk, U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg and the presidential assistant, McGeorge Bundy express themselves freely, but the three CBS reporters —Richard C. Hottelet, Marvin Kalb and Harry Reasoner—all asked pointed questions and got some forceful answers, even though the latter were couched occasionally in diplomatic jargon.

THE TELEVISION audience as a whole may not have grasped the true significance of what was being said, and perhaps it wasn't expected to, as the real audience was far away in other lands. There's little doubt that the foreign offices in Peking and Moscow, to whom verbatim transcripts were available through embassies here, can read between the lines and perceive that there's a chance to make peace now without much complication and that there may be greater difficulty later on if the war is prolonged.

Emphasis was placed, of course, on America's readiness to negotiate, and the point was made that the military successes in recent days might "help us bring nearer the day when there would be effective negotiations." But the heart of the argument was the indicated formula as to how peace could be made. Secretary Rusk recalled that the Chinese have been talking about an immediate withdrawal of American forces as a precondition to negotiations, and described this as "quite an unrealistic point of view," because the intervention of American forces in the first place was due entirely to the invasion from the north into South Viet Nam. Secretary Rusk added:

"Now one would suppose that peace requires that there be a withdrawal of those North Vietnamese forces that have penetrated into South Viet Nam. If you don't like the word withdrawal, you can use the word redeployment, but it's the infiltration which is solely responsible for the presence of American combat forces in South Viet Nam."

SECRETARY RUSK reiterated that the United States has "no interest in military bases or a permanent military presence in Southeast Asia." He was unequivocal in his statement that there is a "deep commitment to the simple notion of self-determination."

There were questions asked as to whether the United States is interested in pursuing the war into Red China's territory, and this was vigorously denied. Secretary Rusk stressed, moreover, that the United States does not want to escalate the war. He said:

"We would hope very much that the time will come when it will be recognized on the other side that pushing this matter militarily is not worth the risk at the end of the trail, and therefore that they will bring this to the conference table for settlement. . . .

"I myself cannot believe that it's a rational idea that the principal powers involved in this business could look with favor upon the outbreak of a general war. It doesn't make sense from anyone's point of view."

MR. RUSK didn't speak of the Red Chinese as "enemies" but referred to "our colleagues in Peking" as he said:

"If they want to test whether or not the United States is aggressive, then let them live at peace with their neighbors and they would find out that the United States is not aggressive with respect to mainland China."

The whole discussion shows clearly to Peking that there is a way to make peace. It adds up to a willingness by the United States to refrain from bombing North Viet Nam provided there is an indication of a withdrawal of Communist forces back to North Viet Nam.

This then could lead to a cease-fire, and talks could proceed indefinitely on other points at issue.

Little Uncoordinated

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

They'll have their hands full in 1966. At stake in the elections are 15 of the 17 GOP governorships, only 20 of the 33 held by Democrats.

In Congress 14 of the 32 Republican Senate seats are up but only 19 of the 68 Democratic seats. In the House all 435 seats are at stake. There the Republicans now number only 141.

Some of the things Republicans have said and done this year give an insight into their state of mind and the state of the party:

Jan. 22 — Hoping he could smooth things, Republicans made Ray C. Bliss of Ohio their national committee chairman to succeed Dean Burch, Barry Goldwater's man in 1964. Burch was pushed out.

March 28 — "The Republican party is in bad shape," said Leonard Hall, a former GOP chairman.

June 9 — Bliss predicted a 10 per cent boost in the party's strength in the next two years "if we stay united and do the job."

June 14 — A GOP House leader, Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, said his group might end support for President Johnson's Viet Nam policy. But the Republican Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said his group would "uphold the hands of the President."

June 18 — Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republicans' No. 1 man, said victory was in the air for the GOP, adding: "We're moving forward rapidly."

June 18 — Bliss, complaining splinter groups drain off funds, said Goldwater's new-born conservative Free Society Association will hamper the quest for party unity and money. Goldwater denied it's a splinter group.

June 19 — Ford, who smelled victory the day before, said he believed the two-party system was in jeopardy from Johnson's use of power.

June 23 — Bliss fired his friend and aide, William Cody Kelly, after the GOP finance director, Frank J. Kovac, accused Kelly of rifling his desk and reading his correspondence. Kovac was one of the last of Goldwater's allies left in the high command.

Kelly told the National Committee he broke into the desk because he suspected Kovac of spying for Goldwater and that working at GOP headquarters was more dangerous than fighting a war.

June 23 — The recently formed American Conservative Union proclaimed itself a "think tank" to increase Republican seats in the House. Its leadership denied it was a splinter group.

June 29 — Bliss, sounding less optimistic than on June 9, said the National Committee was "not cocky" about the party's chances next year.

July 28 — Denison Kitchell, president of Goldwater's Free Society Association, hit at two Republican governors, George Romney of Michigan and New York's Nelson A. Rockefeller. He said their party efforts "have never gone much beyond service to their own ambitions."

Aug. 19 — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said it was "all rot" that there was any rift between him and Johnson on the U.S. military commitment in Viet Nam.

But bucking "Abe" was a formidable line up — the heads of the 10 major steel corporations who met most of Sunday, Aug. 29, quite secretly in Pittsburgh's Carlton House. As confidentially reported, their viewpoint was that they could meet that wage bill and still modernize and expand to meet foreign competition or make even a slight profit.

They decided to stand pat. They're all good men, on both sides of these negotiations. But the relations are stilted. So there are more ultimatums than there is bargaining.

THE HOLD the line signal was passed to ex-college football star center Conrad Cooper (circa 1924). So "Coop" the industry's chief bargainer asked "Abe" to meet him privately in the U.S. Steel Corp.'s Pittsburgh offices Sunday at 5 p.m. They talked for two hours. They decided neither could budge.

"Coop", as is the practice inside the ultimate sanctum, leveled with "Abe." The U.S. Steel executive said that he had reached the final "mill" point to which he could stretch the industry's offer. "Abe" in effect pointed out that the men in the plants would howl him down if he accepted. They shook hands. They went back to their powerful principals.

Word was flashed to the President's new quarterback, Joe Califano in the White House. He had been coordinating all the messages which had been streaming in from official and unofficial emissaries in New York and Pittsburgh.

Then Califano briefed the President who already knew as much about the crisis as a chief executive could — especially one who had been talking privately with one Arthur Goldberg in Texas.

For the younger set, it should be reported here that Ambassador Goldberg, when he had been counsel to the Steelworkers, had run the 116 day 1959 steel strike. The ambassador knows the Steel Union, even today, as Casey Stengel knows the Mets. (That's where the analogy ends.)

SO THE PRESIDENT reluctantly decided to move a labor crisis into the White House for the second time in his administration. The other involved the railroads.

The chain reaction, quite heated at the beginning, went from the President to Califano, to Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz. The latter telephoned both sides in Pittsburgh to tell them the invitation was coming. Then the newly-married Jim Reynolds, still weary from other crises, called both parties and told them to pack full suitcases—they were coming for the duration.

Abel did not take this lightly. But he's of the old steel-and-coal labor complex. And the generation now under 25 should know that this means that tough labor leaders bargain as did Old King Coal, otherwise known as John L. Lewis. Now well past 85, the white-haired and quickly fatiguuing aging giant always battled at the top. So did the gentler giant, the late Phil Murray, the Steel Union creator.

Lyndon Johnson was aware of all this when he invited both sides in. Actually there was little new except the antagonists' arrival by helicopter on the White House lawn. John Lewis had thundered all through the second big war back in the early '40s.

BUT THIS is the '60s. Certainly there is enough steel for 45 days. And not all the plants would go down. Certainly there is Viet Nam. But there is the economic stability of the nation about which to worry.

It's a matter of the gold balance.

Just eight years ago the U.S. was exporting half a billion dollars more steel annually than was being imported. Today, American buyers are importing a billion dollars more annually than we are selling to foreign customers. This is a loss of $1.5 billion a year. If this trend continues, it could rock the nation and melt our hard currency.

Labor - management feuds shake the confidence of foreign steel buyers in America's ability to deliver.

So the president decided to move in at deadline.

The image of Uncle Sam as a tall, lean man with chin whiskers, striped pantaloons, a swallow-tail coat and a plug hat became established in the 1860's as a popular personification of the United States government, the National Geographic says. Uncle Sam replaced an earlier figure known as Brother Jonathan and a variety of other emblems, including the Indian, the rattlesnake and the eagle (which became official).

U.S. Offers Peace

By David Lawrence

Red China Gets Clear View Of Washington Stand

By this time, the governments of Red China and the Soviet Union have had several days in which to analyze a document containing a comprehensive exposition of the American government's intentions with respect to peace in Viet Nam. If the Communist regimes don't take advantage of the olive branch being offered them, it must be surmised that they still are unaware that, by prolonging the war, they inevitably will risk the devastation of Hanoi by air bombardment and the demoralization of the North Viet Nam government.

David Lawrence

There has been an outpouring of nearly 40,000 words by officials of the United States government and a Republican committee, as well as a State Department news conference, covering every phase of the delicate problem in Viet Nam but the hour-long television program rally built the foundations the Communists are seriously interested.

Not only did Secretary of State Dean Rusk, U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg and the presidential assistant, McGeorge Bundy express themselves freely, but the three CBS reporters —Richard C. Hottelet, Marvin Kalb and Harry Reasoner—all asked pointed questions and got some forceful answers, even though the latter were couched occasionally in diplomatic jargon.

THE TELEVISION audience as a whole may not have grasped the true significance of what was being said, and perhaps it wasn't expected to, as the real audience was far away in other lands. There's little doubt that the foreign offices in Peking and Moscow, to whom verbatim transcripts were available through embassies here, can read between the lines and perceive that there's a chance to make peace now without much complication and that there may be greater difficulty later on if the war is prolonged.

Emphasis was placed, of course, on America's readiness to negotiate, and the point was made that the military successes in recent days might "help us bring nearer the day when there would be effective negotiations." But the heart of the argument was the indicated formula as to how peace could be made. Secretary Rusk recalled that the Chinese have been talking about an immediate withdrawal of American forces as a precondition to negotiations, and described this as "quite an unrealistic point of view," because the intervention of American forces in the first place was due entirely to the invasion from the north into South Viet Nam. Secretary Rusk added:

"Now one would suppose that peace requires that there be a withdrawal of those North Vietnamese forces that have penetrated into South Viet Nam. If you don't like the word withdrawal, you can use the word redeployment, but it's the infiltration which is solely responsible for the presence of American combat forces in South Viet Nam."

SECRETARY RUSK reiterated that the United States has "no interest in military bases or a permanent military presence in Southeast Asia." He was unequivocal in his statement that there is a "deep commitment to the simple notion of self-determination."

There were questions asked as to whether the United States is interested in pursuing the war into Red China's territory, and this was vigorously denied. Secretary Rusk stressed, moreover, that the United States does not want to escalate the war. He said:

"We would hope very much that the time will come when it will be recognized on the other side that pushing this matter militarily is not worth the risk at the end of the trail, and therefore that they will bring this to the conference table for settlement. . . .

"I myself cannot believe that it's a rational idea that the principal powers involved in this business could look with favor upon the outbreak of a general war. It doesn't make sense from anyone's point of view."

MR. RUSK didn't speak of the Red Chinese as "enemies" but referred to "our colleagues in Peking" as he said:

"If they want to test whether or not the United States is aggressive, then let them live at peace with their neighbors and they would find out that the United States is not aggressive with respect to mainland China."

The whole discussion shows clearly to Peking that there is a way to make peace. It adds up to a willingness by the United States to refrain from bombing North Viet Nam provided there is an indication of a withdrawal of Communist forces back to North Viet Nam.

This then could lead to a cease-fire, and talks could proceed indefinitely on other points at issue.

Little Uncoordinated

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

They'll have their hands full in 1966. At stake in the elections are 15 of the 17 GOP governorships, only 20 of the 33 held by Democrats.

In Congress 14 of the 32 Republican Senate seats are up but only 19 of the 68 Democratic seats. In the House all 435 seats are at stake. There the Republicans now number only 141.

Some of the things Republicans have said and done this year give an insight into their state of mind and the state of the party:

Jan. 22 — Hoping he could smooth things, Republicans made Ray C. Bliss of Ohio their national committee chairman to succeed Dean Burch. Barry Goldwater's man in 1964. Burch was pushed out.

March 28 — "The Republican party is in bad shape," said Leonard Hall, a former GOP chairman.

June 9 — Bliss predicted a 10 per cent boost in the party's strength in the next two years "if we stay united and do the job."

June 14 — A GOP House leader, Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, said his group might end support for President Johnson's Viet Nam policy. But the Republican Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said his group would "uphold the hands of the President."

June 18 — Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republicans' No. 1 man, said victory was in the air for the GOP, adding: "We're moving forward rapidly."

June 18 — Bliss, complaining splinter groups drain off funds, said Goldwater's new-born conservative Free Society Association will hamper the quest for party unity and money. Goldwater denied it's a splinter group.

June 19 — Ford, who smelled victory the day before, said he believed the two-party system was in jeopardy from Johnson's use of power.

June 23 — Bliss fired his friend and aide, William Cody Kelly, after the GOP finance director, Frank J. Kovac, accused Kelly of rifling his desk and reading his correspondence. Kovac was one of the last of Goldwater's allies left in the high command.

Kelly told the National Committee he broke into the desk because he suspected Kovac of spying for Goldwater and that working at GOP headquarters was more dangerous than fighting a war.

June 23 — The recently formed American Conservative Union proclaimed itself a "think tank" to increase Republican seats in the House. Its leadership denied it was a splinter group.

June 29 — Bliss, sounding less optimistic than on June 9, said the National Committee was "not cocky" about the party's chances next year.

July 28 — Denison Kitchell, president of Goldwater's Free Society Association, hit at two Republican governors, George Romney of Michigan and New York's Nelson A. Rockefeller. He said their party efforts "have never gone much beyond service to their own ambitions."

Aug. 19 — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said it was "all rot" that there was any rift between him and Johnson on the U.S. military commitment in Viet Nam.

Rolling Out Record-Breaking Volume Of Legislation

Congress Reacts To Johnson Touch

Getting along with Congress has been developed to a fine art by President Johnson, and the legislative assembly line is producing at a remarkable clip. This second of four articles on LBJ in action focuses on his winning ways with lawmakers.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is responding like a giant computer to President Johnson's touch, rolling out in record-breaking volume legislation aimed at altering the course of American life.

By the time it adjourns for the year, probably in September, the administration-controlled Congress will have produced an astounding compilation of measures aimed at bolstering the economy and lifting the poor and oppressed to higher social and economic levels.

While this was going on, the President succeeded in smothering all but a recalcitrant few voices of opposition among the legislators to his course in Viet Nam. His judgment that there is no substantial dissent to the policies he is pursuing is generally accepted as accurate.

In his 21 months as President, Johnson has gone far beyond the New Deal of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the predecessor he reveres, to push the federal government into areas FDR never dared invade.

Now his task, as the President sees it, is to turn from the field of what Richard Goodwin, a presidential aide, called "material want" toward the improvement of "the quality of human life."

Translated, this means highway beautification, rebuilding of the nation's slum-scarred cities, elimination of water and air pollution, and expansion of recreation facilities.

Perhaps Congress will not be so docile in the future, but for practical purposes Johnson has got just about everything he asked for out of a body in which the Democrats outnumber the Republicans 2 to 1.

Major examples of his accomplishments include the Negro voting rights bill, health care for the elderly, aid to secondary education, a $7-billion housing program, establishment of a housing and urban affairs department, a $4.6-billion excise tax cut, mental health grants, military pay increases and a proposed constitutional amendment on presidential disability.

Also Congress has given Johnson most of what he asked for foreign aid.

In the mill are measures for aid to higher education, abolition of the immigration quota system, repeal of the Taft-Hartley right to work provision, doubling of the antipoverty program, expansion of minimum wage coverage and a new program of farm price supports.

To accomplish these results, Johnson has done about everything but walk on water. He has pleaded, cajoled, flattered and persuaded with round-the-clock persistence probably never equalled in White House-Congress relations.

On occasion he has twisted a reluctant arm and has knocked a few heads together. He has rewarded his friends and, in most instances, has placated his critics.

Because he was a member of the inner circle in the House and Senate for many years, Johnson reads the lawmakers as though he were checking their diaries. He knows the ambitions, the strength and weaknesses of the men with whom he deals.

He not only talks the language of Congress, he enjoys it. It was his way of life for about 28 years and for him it was the good life.

Beyond that, Johnson knows that the craving for presidential recognition is universal. He gives of it liberally, passing out pens at bill signings, posing for photos with Senate and House members, calling up members on their birthdays inviting them to the White House and paying little informal calls on them that will be duly recorded in the press.

All of this might not have been enough, however, if Johnson had not suppressed his natural partisanship most of the time to build consensus support in Congress. With some exceptions he has been as kind to Republicans as to Democrats. Only last week, the President turned aside with soft words an assault by House Republicans on the administration's Viet Nam war policies.

All this has paid off. He might never have been able to get a voting rights bill passed, for example, if he had not given Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois a virtually free hand in hammering out its terms.

But a congressional election year lies ahead in 1966. Things may turn a bit more partisan then and there may be a few political weeds among the presidential roses.

C&O, Norfolk Merger Plan Would Include Five Others

NEW YORK (AP) — A proposed Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western Railroad merger would include five other railroads and rival the pending Pennsylvania-New York Central combine.

It would result in a system covering 20 states and two Canadian provinces.

More competition, better service and "probably lower rates" are expected through the merger, the chief executives of the two roads said Tuesday night.

Directors of the carriers announced their approval of the merger Tuesday. They also offered to include in their system five other Eastern railroads — Erie Lackawanna, Delaware & Hudson, Boston & Maine, Reading, and Central of New Jersey.

Presidents Walter J. Tuohy of the C&O and Herman H. Pevler of the N&W said the overriding reason for the merger proposal was an expected saving of $50 million annually, which would come about between 5 and 10 years after the union.

Tuohy and Pevler told a news conference here that they expected approval within two years from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There has been no formal merger discussion with the other five roads involved.

Operations Of Soviet Subs Said Increasing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet submarine operations have increased in the past year, Navy sources said today.

"We've been spotting them more often," one official said. "Where one or two used to show up, we're sighting three and four.

"They seem to be operating in greater numbers and more openly."

Navy officers said the wider-ranging Soviet submarine operations reflect the larger number of long-endurance craft, including atomic-powered vessels, now in the Soviet sub flotillas.

TB Sanitarium Would Be Converted

Mental Health Unit Eyed For Northern Panhandle

CHARLESTON (AP) — A long-range plan for converting the old Ohio County tuberculosis sanitarium near Wheeling into a Northern Panhandle mental health center was presented to the Board of Public Works Tuesday.

State Mental Health Director Dr. Mildred Bateman said the converted center would save money and greatly increase the efficiency of West Virginia's mental health program.

"THERE ARE presently 693 patients from the Northern Panhandle area in state mental hospitals," she said. "Weston State Hospital serves this area, but is 120 miles away and has an average daily population of 2,245 patients when it should have no more than 1,450 patients.

Dr. Bateman said the ultimate goal of the program is to establish a center capable of serving 200,000 persons living in a six-county area.

"At present," she said, "there are no facilities in the Northern Panhandle which can serve as rehabilitation houses for mentally retarded persons. Diagnostic and treatment resources for children also are inadequate throughout the state. This center could help alleviate that problem."

"The proposed center not only would greatly reduce the overcrowding at Weston," she said, "but also could serve many of the over-age mentally retarded adults at the Colin Anderson Center at St. Marys, thus making more beds available for children."

OHIO COUNTY has offered to donate the sanitarium and surrounding land to the state. Dr. Bateman told the board the facility could be operated immediately as a mental health unit at renovation costs of about $32,000.

However, she pointed out, it would cost up to $5 million to completely convert the sanitarium into a full-fledged mental health, diagnostic, treatment and education and training center.

The board took the proposal under consideration after instructing Dr. Bateman to contact the governor's office to find out what federal money would be available for the program.

Ambridge Marine Writes Johnson Thank You Note

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Marine Cpl. Dennis Stefanacci served 14 months on Okinawa and was unhappy about being sent to Viet Nam.

Today, President Johnson has a letter from the 21-year-old Marine from nearby Ambridge thanking him "for giving me the opportunity to serve my country."

The President was so moved he had the letter read to the House of Representatives Tuesday.

Geraldine Stefanacci, one of Dennis' nine half-brothers and half-sisters, said Tuesday night when informed of his letter to the President:

"He was quite upset about going overseas again. At first he wrote discouraging letters."

But, she added, when he saw what the situation was he changed. "He's a very compassionate person."

Stefanacci wrote to Johnson: "Every one of us is fighting for one thing—freedom. Some will never see home again, but they will not have died in vain. They will have died for a reason —one that is worth every man that is lost."

He also told the President he wished "there were no war and no killing" but that he was very proud to be fighting "because it gives me a feeling of repayment."

"Repayment to what? To you, Mr. President, and to the great free country I was reared in. Many people — both men and women—have risked, and in many instances died, to keep our country free from communism. Now it is my turn and I have pledged my life to defend our country."

Two Electric Firms Fined In Price-Fix

The total was increased Tuesday when a federal judge fined General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp. nearly $17 million for their part in fixing prices, rigging bids and dividing markets on electrical equipment valued at $1.75 billion annually.

The companies had been found guilty in 1961. The ruling by U.S. Dist. Judge Wilfred Feinberg was in a civil case to determine damages.

Judge Feinberg ruled that Ohio Valley Electric Corp. and its subsidiary, the Indiana-Kentucky Electric Corp., were fraudulently overcharged by $5,624,401 for 11 steam turbine generators they bought in 1952 to supply the Atomic Energy Commission plant near Portsmouth, Ohio.

He awarded triple damages of $7,424,373 for Ohio Valley Electric and $9,448,830 for Indiana-Kentucky Electric.

The case was one of about 1,900 by private utilities and public power agencies throughout the country to recover damages. They resulted from the government's breaking a criminal conspiracy among 29 electrical equipment manufacturers.

The conspiracy has cost General Electric more than $225 million and Westinghouse more than $110 million.

TB Sanitarium Would Be Converted

Mental Health Unit Eyed For Northern Panhandle

CHARLESTON (AP) — A long-range plan for converting the old Ohio County tuberculosis sanitarium near Wheeling into a Northern Panhandle mental health center was presented to the Board of Public Works Tuesday.

580 Remain Off Jobs At 2 Mines Hit By Picketing

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP)— About 580 men remained off the job today at two area coal mines hit by picketing which company spokesmen call unauthorized.

About 180 men refused to cross a picket line set up Tuesday at the Alexander mine of Valley Camp Coal Co. A spokesman for the company said picketing may have resulted from the Ireland dispute.

Another 500 workers were out at the Nelms mine northwest of here near Cadiz. That strike reportedly stemmed from a dispute over assignments.

Architects Urge 8-Story Wing On W. Va. Structure

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Architects have recommended adding an eight - story wing to the planned 11 - story, $8 million state office building.

The structure would be a T-shaped building on Washington Street in the Capitol complex here. Architects also have proposed a wing for the adjacent building housing the State Road Commission and other offices.

No cost estimate was made for the wing. The architects' recommendations were in a progress report to the State Office Building Commission, disclosed to the Board of Public Works Tuesday.

Finance Commissioner Truman Gore, secretary of the commission, said architects will be notified to proceed with tentative plans for the new building.

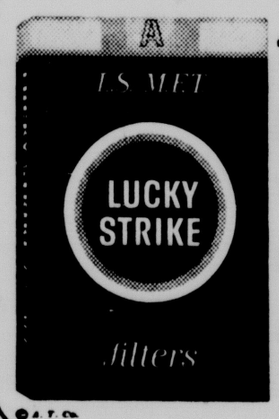

The architects estimate that the new office building with the added wing, plus a new state police building at Dunbar, would cut the state's office rental costs in Kanawha County by about $356,000.

The architects are associated with the Charleston firm Zando, Marin and Milstead.

580 Remain Off Jobs At 2 Mines Hit By Picketing

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — About 580 men remained off the job today at two area coal mines hit by picketing which company spokesmen call unauthorized.

Nearly 400 men walked off the job Monday at the Ireland mine of Hanna Coal Co., reportedly because of a work assignment dispute.

About 180 men refused to cross a picket line set up Tuesday at the Alexander mine of Valley Camp Coal Co. A spokesman for the company said picketing may have resulted from the Ireland dispute.

Another 500 workers were out at the Nelms mine northwest of here near Cadiz. That strike reportedly stemmed from a dispute over assignments.

Architects Urge 8-Story Wing On W. Va. Structure

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Architects have recommended adding an eight - story wing to the planned 11 - story, $8 million state office building.

The structure would be a T-shaped building on Washington Street in the Capitol complex here. Architects also have proposed a wing for the adjacent building housing the State Road Commission and other offices.

No cost estimate was made for the wing. The architects' recommendations were in a progress report to the State Office Building Commission, disclosed to the Board of Public Works Tuesday.

Finance Commissioner Truman Gore, secretary of the commission, said architects will be notified to proceed with tentative plans for the new building.

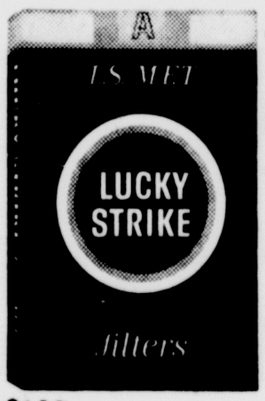

The architects estimate that the new office building with the added wing, plus a new state police building at Dunbar, would cut the state's office rental costs in Kanawha County by about $356,000.

The architects are associated with the Charleston firm Zando, Marin and Milstead.

Five Girls Hurt In Dive By Boy At Beatles' Show

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five teen-age girls were injured when a frenzied boy leaped on stage with Britain's Beatles, touched drummer Ringo Starr on the shoulder and did a swan dive off the stage into the front rows.

The incident was during a bedlam Tuesday at the Cow Palace as thousands of screaming, fainting and sobbing teen-agers threw jelly beans, stuffed animals — and themselves — at the mop-haired singers.

Police said there were no serious injuries and that everyone recovered, including a pregnant woman who fainted and was carried to a first aid station.

Six were able to touch one or more Beatle before they and about 70 other Beatle fans were carted off the stage.

Quota Club Gets Convention Data

A report on a citation received during the international convention was given at the business session following the annual picnic of the Quota Club Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Juanita Clendenning of Harding Ave.

Mrs. Laura Reinacher, who was a delegate to the July event at Denver, Colo., said the group were commended by the president, Mrs. Dorothy Patterson Sayre, for initiating the largest group of new members, 13. Stockton, Calif., was second with 11.

DISTRICT 6, of which the local club is a member, also received a commendation for the founding of a new club at Willoughby.

Mrs. Reinacher said there were 575 registered and discussed the various workshops she attended.

She displayed a group of souvenirs the candidates used for promotion in the election campaign and literature she brought for the various committees. She also brought back a recording of the keynote speaker, which will be played at a future session.

Mrs. Marie Hays, president, displayed a certificate the club received from Frank C. Dawson for the recent contribution to the Patterson Field Improvement Project.

Delegates elected to the District 6 conference Sept. 24-26 at Youngstown were Mrs. Hays and Miss Ethelyn Exley, with Miss Selma Ladzinske and Mrs. Reinacher alternates.

The group was advised of the resolutions to be considered at the conference, namely, a permanent Kent State University scholarship fund, the voting privileges of affiliate members and the membership standing of past governors.

FINANCIAL allocations included $100 to the fund to provide street markers for St. Clair Ave. and a check to cover the birthday gifts to be sent to Mrs. Wanda Frey Joiner of Hollywood, Calif., who founded the Quota Club in 1917.

Members voted to order fruit cake and pecans as the project of the ways and means committee, with Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner chairman.

An invitation was read to a yacht party scheduled Sept. 14 by the Willoughby Club. Anyone interested in attending may call Mrs. Hays.

Program booklets, prepared by Mrs. Doris Locke, were distributed.

Miss Gladys DeBolt read a report prepared by William E. Weidner, who conducted the Speech and Hearing Clinic which the club sponsors at Westgate School. She pointed out there were 30 clinics this past year, with 71 children and six adults receiving therapy. Weidner commended Miss Phyllis Crook and Miss Mildred McGregor for assistance at the clinic and announced he will not be serving as director this year, since he plans to continue his education. His replacement is Chester Palen, who will assign the dates for the forthcoming season.

Miss Crook read a letter of thanks from a local family who received a hearing aid for a young daughter.

MISS EXLEY screened slides of her recent trip through Germany, France and Switzerland, on which she was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Exley, also a Quotarian.

She gave highlights of the International Nurses Congress held at Frankfort, Germany, and attended by 6,000 registered nurses. In her commentary, she told of the stories behind the pictures she screened of the Berlin Wall.

Covers were arranged for 22 by the hostess, assisted by the social committee, Mrs. Mildred McKim, Miss Ladzinske and Mrs. Eleanor Hill Phinney.

The next session will be a luncheon Sept. 14 at the Travelers Hotel.

Area Crashes Leave 2 Hurt

A city man was hurt when his truck upset near Elkton and a Youngstown church figure was injured when his car and a truck collided near Rogers Tuesday afternoon the Ohio Highway Patrol at Libon reported.

William L. Brokaw, 21, of 1316 Perry Ave. was treated at City Hospital for bruises of the back and chest and a laceration of the right elbow after his truck overturned along County Rd. 419 a half mile east of Elkton at 4:45 p.m.

Brokaw, an employe of the Ohio Division of Parks and Recreation, was headed west in the 1962 truck when he lost control on a curve and it overturned on its side after hitting a culvert.

He is the son of Atty. and Mrs. G. William Brokaw and has been working at Beaver Creek State Park. Officers said Brokaw was apparently thrown out of the truck.

The Very Rev. Peter Paunovich, 65, of Youngstown was in "fair" condition at City Hospital with injuries received when his car collided with a semi-trailer truck on Route 7 three miles south of Rogers at 6 p.m.

The patrol said the truck, operated by Charles Spaar, 43, of Cadiz, rounded a curve while headed south and the trailer skidded left of center, colliding with the priest's 1963 sedan which was headed south.

Rev. Paunovich suffered a fractured knee, possible fractured ribs, bruises of the face and legs and cuts of the face.

Chester Man Injured When Car Hits Tree

Evert Spurlock of 217 Louisiana Ave., Chester, was reported in "fair" condition today in City Hospital, where he was admitted shortly after 7 a. m. following an auto accident near Newell.

His car reportedly ran off Route 66 and struck a tree. Spurlock received lacerations of the right ear and right side of the face and a shoulder injury.

The Ohio State Employment Service was given a $20,000 permit for a building it will erect at E. 4th and College Sts., replacing its present quarters on Washington St. Charles Sayre will erect the building.

Braves Trip Reds While Giants, Phillies Split Pair

Rain Calls Off Dodgers, Bucs Tilt; Twin Bill Scheduled Today

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves must have had their smoke signals crossed when they called Frank Thomas back to the reservation. All they really needed was an umbrella.

The Braves made the only headway in the National League pennant race Tuesday night but it took them almost eight hours in stormy Cincinnati to do it. After beating the Reds 5-3 in the rain-prolonged opener of a doubleheader, the Braves weathered another long delay before Cincinnati's 4-1 lead was washed out in the fourth inning of the second game.

The victory ended a six-game losing streak for the Braves and moved them into a third-place tie with Cincinnati, two games behind league-leading Los Angeles. The Dodgers were rained out at Pittsburgh while two other contenders, San Francisco and Philadelphia, were dividing a doubleheader.

Rain threatened to washout the Pirates again today. An afternoon-night doubleheader is scheduled today at 1:30 and 8:15 p. m.

Thomas, meanwhile, cracked two homers and drove in five runs as Houston swept a twi-nighter from the New York Mets 4-3 and 3-2, then packed his bag for a return trip to Milwaukee.

The Braves acquired Thomas, whose two homers against New York lifted his career total to 286, from Houston to bolster their bench. They'll send the Astros a player in return at a later date.

A couple of other former Milwaukee stars, Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette, hooked up in the Phillies' Burdette topping his former roommate 2-0 in the second game. The Giants won the first game 2-1 in 11 innings.

Home runs by Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron and Gene Oliver powered Milwaukee past the Reds in a game delayed 24 minutes at the start and held up for more than two hours in the fifth inning. Mathews' 30th homer capped the Braves' attack and tied him with Stan Musual for seventh place on the all-time homer list, with 475.

Spahn gave up only three hits in the Giants-Phillies nightcap but two were homers — by Alex Johnson in the seventh and Bobby Wine in the eighth — and they pinned loss No. 16 on the 44-year-old southpaw.

Burdette, 38, scattered six hits for his third victory, getting pinch hitter Orlando Cepeda to hit into a game-ending double play after giving up two singles in the ninth.

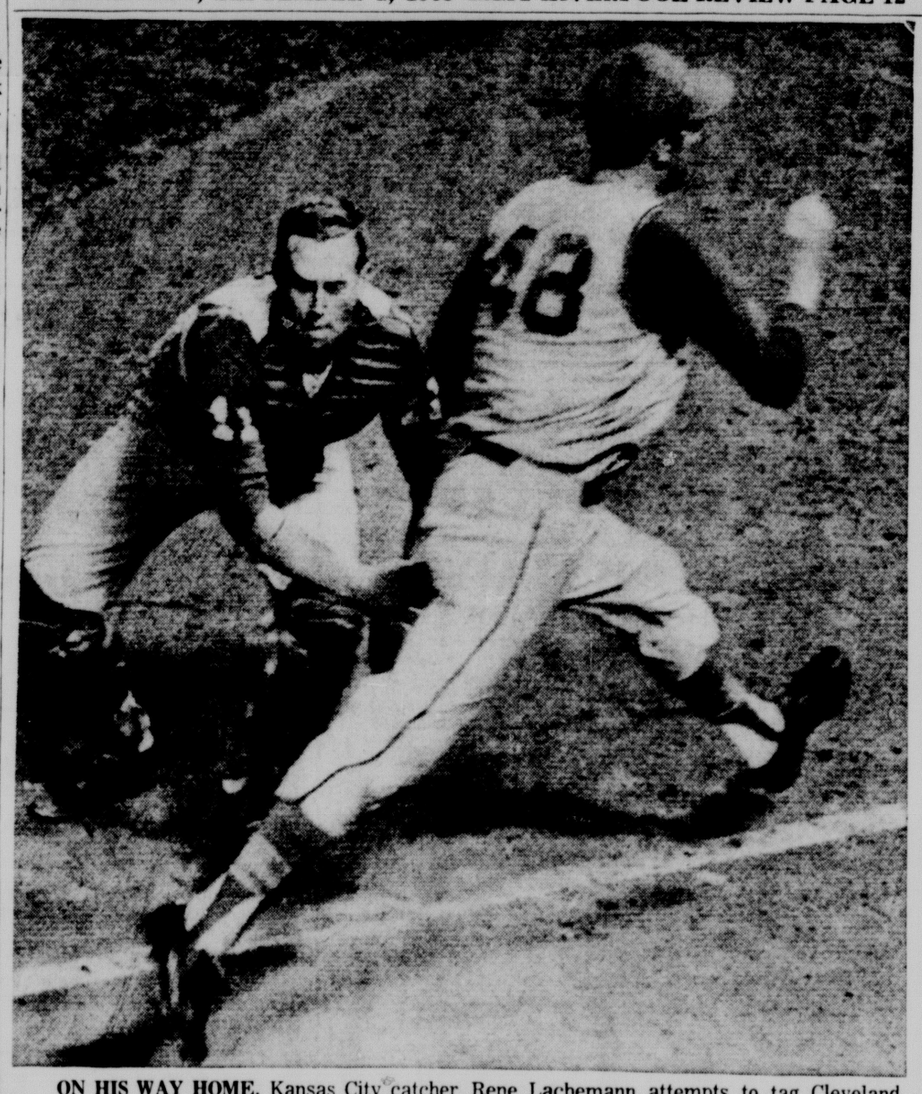

Willie Mays doubled in the 11th inning of the opener, reached third on a passed ball while Willie McCovey was being issued an intentional walk and scored the winning run as Jim Hart tapped into a force play.

Thomas drove in all the Astro runs in the opener at New York with his third and fourth home runs of the year. Rusty Staub homered for Houston in the second game and knocked in the deciding run with an eighth-inning single.

Gibson pitched a three-hitter for his 16th victory in 26 decisions and slammed his fourth homer of the season. Bill White's second-inning homer and Curt Flood's RBI single in the eighth completed the St. Louis scoring.

Noble Victory Is Favored Over Hambletonian Field

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Noble Victory was a marked horse today as he led 10 other 3-year-old trotters postward in the $122,245 Hambletonian, trotting's glamor race.

Driven by Stanley Dancer, seeking his first triumph after five misses in the premier stake of harness racing, Noble Victory was an overwhelming choice to win the $59,900 first prize and soar his earnings to $340,466.

The chocolate-colored colt, bought two years ago for $33,000 by K. D. Owen of Houston, Tex., is unbeaten in his last 22 starts and owns the best time of the season in his division of 1:59 3-5.

After rain washed out Tuesday's Grand Circuit card and prevented the 10 colts and the filly Armbro Flight from final workouts, today's forecast was for clear skies and cool temperatures.

Under the sun, the mile clay oval was expected to dry rapidly and be classed as good by the opening first heat at 1:55 p.m. EST.

A crowd of 35,000 was expected inside the gaily-festooned Du Quoin State Fairgrounds, where pari-mutuel betting is prohibited.

Armbro Flight, piloted by the two-time Hambletonian winner Joe O'Brienn was favored to give Noble Victory his severest test. The big filly, owned by the Armstrong brothers of Brampton, Ont., has not lost in 22 starts since being beaten by Noble Victory at Indianapolis a year ago. She has not faced a colt since.

Good support for pulling an upset was given rapidly-improving Short Stop, whose driver, Ned Bower, brought The Intruder home first as one of the Hambletonian's biggest longshots in 1956; Nimble Boy, going from the No. 1 post position and reined by Ralph Baldwin, who won with Speedy Scott in 1963; and Perfect Freight, a strong-finisher who has been consistently closer to Noble Victory than any other horse with Clint Hodgins at the reins.

Marichal Makes Return To Mound Against Phils

Back, he says, to help the Giants win the National League pennant.

Back for No. 20 — he's lost nine this season — when he takes the mound against the Philadelphia Phillies.

"My only concern is to win," he said in a quiet voice, tinged with a hint of emotion in the accents of his native Dominican Republic.

Then he added:

"And for the Giants to win."

Besides that?

"I just want to pitch, that's all."

The incident that caused the suspension, plus a $1,750 fine which he has paid, he simply wants to wipe from memory.

Anti-Trust Bill, If Passed, Would Benefit Some Sports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Limited exemption from antitrust law restrictions would be granted to professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey under a bill passed by the Senate.

The Senate's voice vote approval Tuesday sent the measure to the House, where it faces a less than bright future. House members have shown no great interest in similar legislation introduced there.

The bill was described by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., its floor manager, as designed to grant equal treatment to the four team sports.

Baseball has enjoyed complete exemption from antitrust actions under a 1922 Supreme Court decision, but a more recent decision cast some doubt whether the court would allow that status to continue.

The bill as passed would place the business aspects of the four professional sports under antitrust jurisdiction, but would exempt their purely sports activities. Baseball thus would lose some of its questioned exemption, but the others would benefit.

The exemptions would apply to:

— The player draft and other steps to equalize the playing strength of league teams.

— Arrangements to police the conduct of teams, players and officials through the employment of commissioners with broad disciplinary powers.

Such business affairs as ownership deals and the awarding of service contracts would be subject to antitrust challenge.

Browns Face Tough Task In Packers

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns face their toughest test of the exhibition season Saturday night when they play the Green Bay Packers in the second game of the annual pro football doubleheader.

In three games against league opponents, the Browns defeated the Los Angeles Rams, the San Francisco 49ers and the Detroit Lions.

Coach Vince Lombardi says his Packers "have the best talent we've ever had in (training) camp. Some people thought we had a poor draft," he continued, "but these are the best young players we've had."

At least half a dozen first-year players will be with the Packers Saturday night, but the team the Browns see will not be much different from the team they lost to by a 28-21 score last fall.

One big addition to the 1965 team is Don Chandler, the punter-place kicker who was obtained from the New York Giants in a trade.

Giants Oust OU Star

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Rookie defensive end John Frick of Ohio University was among four players cut Tuesday by the New York Giants of the National Football League.

Mississippi Gridder Dies

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The University of Mississippi opened its 1964 football practice a year ago today and before the day ended a sophomore halfback collapsed and died. The Rebels lost another player Tuesday — 364 days after the first one.

Mississippi started its 1965 practice session today.

Priester's death was the eighth football fatality reported in the last six days. It was also believed to be the first double fatality for a major college team within such a short time.

There were two other football deaths reported Tuesday.

Open House Slated Thursday At Field

An open house will be held Thursday night at Patterson Field beginning at 7:30 when Potter football fans will receive an opportunity to inspect the improvements at the local gridiron which include new bleachers, a modern lighting system and the resodded football field. Head coach Bob McNea also will speak briefly on the Potter football program.

Two Cincinnati U. Gridders Suspended

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two University of Cincinnati football players have been suspended indefinitely as the result of an incident involving two teen-aged girls.

UC Athletic Director George Smith announced the suspension Tuesday night after police charged Clem Turner, 20, Cincinnati, and Marvin Godfrye, 20, Pittsburgh, with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Police said the girls, aged 13 and 16, walked away Sunday from Longview State Hospital where they had been taken for behavioral problems. The girls told officers the football players picked them up Monday night and took them to an apartment where they were assaulted.

Twins Beaten But Orioles Spoil White Sox Chances

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's nothing different about Dean Chance and the New York Yankees this season.

They're doing the same thing they did last year when Chance won the Cy Young award and the Yankees won their fifth straight American League pennant — when they get together, Chance wins and the Yankees lose.

In other AL games Tuesday night, Detroit edged Minnesota 7-6, Baltimore swept Chicago 4-0 and 7-2, Cleveland trounced Kansas City 8-1 before losing 3-2 in 11 innings and Boston took Washington 4-0 and 8-5 in 10.

Teammate Albie Pearson got in on Chance's act against New York, hitting a first-inning home run off Bill Stafford for the only run. The homer was the 28th of Pearson's career, nine of them coming against the Yankees.

Bill Freehan's fourth hit, a two-out, two-run homer in the ninth, boosted Detroit past first-place Minnesota. The runs were unearned, the result of Don Mincher's bobble of Norm Cash's grounder. Cash earlier hit a three-run homer while Mincher and Bob Allison each drove in three Twins' runs.

Brooks Robinson hit a homer and drove across two runs in each game against Chicago. John Miller and Stu Miller combined for the first-game shutout while Steve Barber scattered eight hits in the nightcap.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell 14-10, allowed only one hit in the first game — Dick Green's leadoff single in the fourth — and struck out 11. He rapped two singles and drove in a run while Leon Wagner collected a homer, a double and two singles.

Kansas City won the nightcap on Ed Charles' run-scoring single in the 11th inning. The Indians took a 2-1 lead in the top of the 10th as Chico Salmon singled in a run, but Bill Bryan tied it with a homer in the bottom of the inning.

Dave Morehead and Dick Radatz stopped Washington on three hits in the opener, getting support from Tony Horton who singled in two runs and scored one.

Horton won the second game for Boston with a three-run homer in the 10th after Russ Nixon's third sacrifice fly, which enabled him to tie a major league record, tied the game in the ninth. Dick Nen had put the Senators ahead with a run-scoring single in the eighth.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Eleven amateurs playing on two courses at opposite ends of Ohio qualified Tuesday for the National Amateur Golf Championship in Tulsa Sept. 15-18.

At the 6,500-yard, par-70 Carmargo layout in Cincinnati, Tony Blom of Cincinnati, with a 71-75—146, and Jeffrey Parry of Zanesville, with 73-73—146, led six qualifiers.

Trailing them were Joe Miller, Hamilton, 147; Bruce Rotte, Cincinnati, 148; John Ehlen, South Fort Mitchell, Ky., 150, and Roger McManus, East Hartville, 151.

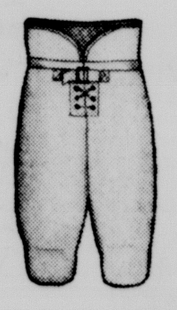

Other Aurora qualifiers were Ed Meister, Kirtland, 150; Ray Beallo, Cleveland, 152, Marion Hekc, Columbiana, 152; and Dick Guardiola, Shaker Heights, 153.

Braves Trip Reds While Giants, Phillies Split Pair

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves must have had their smoke signals crossed when they called Frank Thomas back to the reservation. All they really needed was an umbrella.

The Braves made the only headway in the National League pennant race Tuesday night but it took them almost eight hours in stormy Cincinnati to do it. After beating the Reds 5-3 in the rain-prolonged opener of a doubleheader, the Braves weathered another long delay before Cincinnati's 4-1 lead was washed out in the fourth inning of the second game.

The victory ended a six-game losing streak for the Braves and moved them into a third-place tie with Cincinnati, two games behind league-leading Los Angeles. The Dodgers were rained out at Pittsburgh while two other contenders, San Francisco and Philadelphia, were dividing a doubleheader.

Rain threatened to washout the Pirates again today. An afternoon-night doubleheader is scheduled today at 1:30 and 8:15 p. m.

Thomas, meanwhile, cracked two homers and drove in five runs as Houston swept a twinighter from the New York Mets 4-3 and 3-2, then packed his bag for a return trip to Milwaukee.

The Braves acquired Thomas, whose two homers against New York lifted his career total to 286, from Houston to bolster their bench. They'll send the Astros a player in return at a later date.

A couple of other former Milwaukee stars, Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette, hooked up in the Phillies' Burdette topping his former roommate 2-0 in the second game. The Giants won the first game 2-1 in 11 innings.

Home runs by Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron and Gene Oliver powered Milwaukee past the Reds in a game delayed 24 minutes at the start and held up for more than two hours in the fifth inning. Mathews' 30th homer capped the Braves' attack and tied him with Stan Musual for seventh place on the all-time homer list, with 475.

Spahn gave up only three hits in the Giants-Phillies nightcap but two were homers — by Alex Johnson in the seventh and Bobby Wine in the eighth — and they pinned loss No. 16 on the 44-year-old southpaw.

Burdette, 38, scattered six hits for his third victory, getting pinch hitter Orlando Cepeda to hit into a game-ending double play after giving up two singles in the ninth.

Willie Mays doubled in the 11th inning of the opener, reached third on a passed ball while Willie McCovey was being issued an intentional walk and scored the winning run as Jim Hart tapped into a force play.

Thomas drove in all the Astro runs in the opener at New York with his third and fourth home runs of the year. Rusty Staub homered for Houston in the second game and knocked in the deciding run with an eighth-inning single.

Gibson pitched a three-hitter for his 16th victory in 26 decisions and slammed his fourth homer of the season. Bill White's second-inning homer and Curt Flood's RBI single in the eighth completed the St. Louis scoring.

Marichal Makes Return To Mound Against Phils

Back, he says, to help the Giants win the National League pennant.

Back for No. 20 — he's lost nine this season — when he takes the mound against the Philadelphia Phillies.

"My only concern is to win," he said in a quiet voice, tinged with a hint of emotion in the accents of his native Dominican Republic.

Then he added:

"And for the Giants to win."

Besides that?

"I just want to pitch, that's all."

The incident that caused the suspension, plus a $1,750 fine which he has paid, he simply wants to wipe from memory.

Anti-Trust Bill, If Passed, Would Benefit Some Sports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Limited exemption from antitrust law restrictions would be granted to professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey under a bill passed by the Senate.

The Senate's voice vote approval Tuesday sent the measure to the House, where it faces a less than bright future. House members have shown no great interest in similar legislation introduced there.

The bill was described by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., its floor manager, as designed to grant equal treatment to the four team sports.

Baseball has enjoyed complete exemption from antitrust actions under a 1922 Supreme Court decision, but a more recent decision cast some doubt whether the court would allow that status to continue.

The bill as passed would place the business aspects of the four professional sports under antitrust jurisdiction, but would exempt their purely sports activities. Baseball thus would lose some of its questioned exemption, but the others would benefit.

The exemptions would apply to:

— The player draft and other steps to equalize the playing strength of league teams.

— Arrangements to police the conduct of teams, players and officials through the employment of commissioners with broad disciplinary powers.

Such business affairs as ownership deals and the awarding of service contracts would be subject to antitrust challenge.

Browns Face Tough Task In Packers

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns face their toughest test of the exhibition season Saturday night when they play the Green Bay Packers in the second game of the annual pro football doubleheader.

In three games against league opponents, the Browns defeated the Los Angeles Rams, the San Francisco 49ers and the Detroit Lions.

Coach Vince Lombardi says his Packers "have the best talent we've ever had in (training) camp. Some people thought we had a poor draft," he continued, "but these are the best young players we've had."

At least half a dozen first-year players will be with the Packers Saturday night, but the team the Browns see will not be much different from the team they lost to by a 28-21 score last fall.

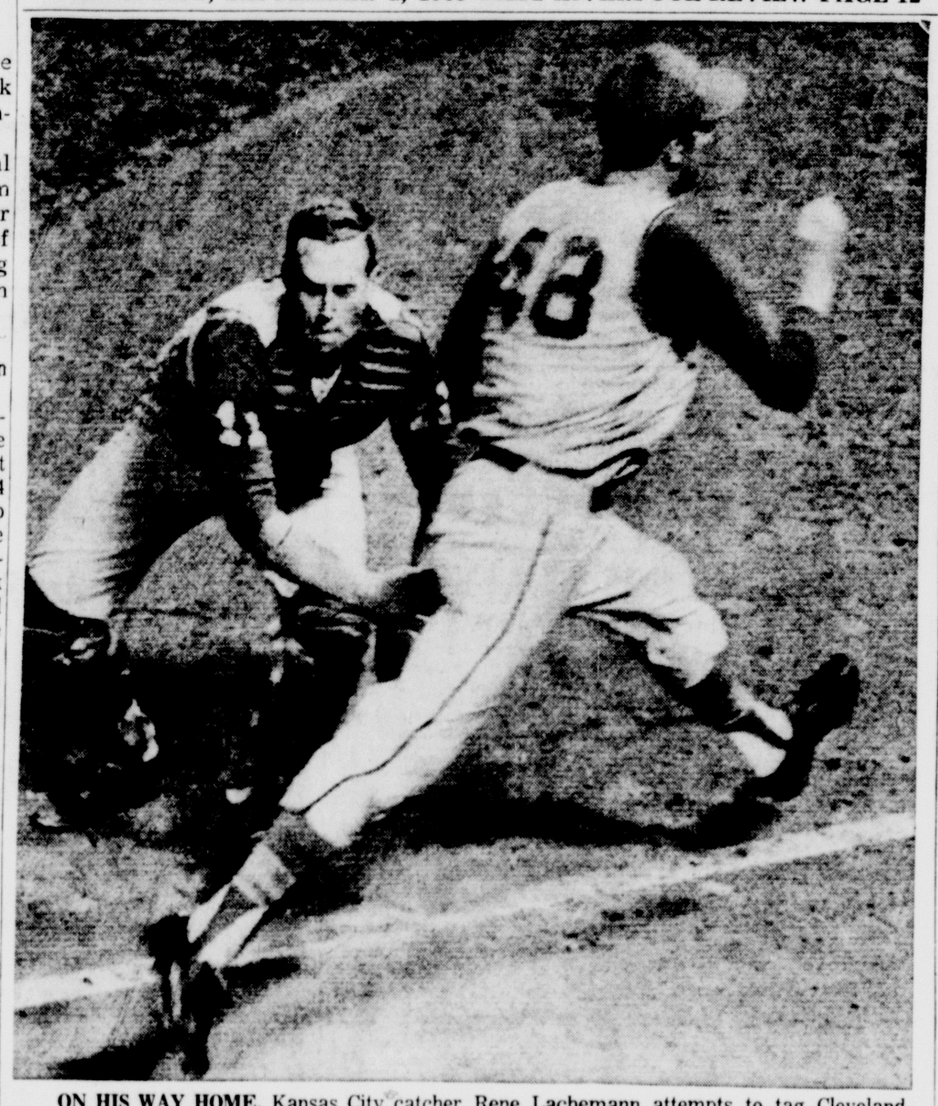

One big addition to the 1965 team is Don Chandler, the punter-place kicker who was obtained from the New York Giants in a trade.

Noble Victory Is Favored Over Hambletonian Field

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Noble Victory was a marked horse today as he led 10 other 3-year-old trotters postward in the $122,245 Hambletonian, trotting's glamor race.

Driven by Stanley Dancer, seeking his first triumph after five misses in the premier stake of harness racing, Noble Victory was an overwhelming choice to win the $59,900 first prize and soar his earnings to $340,466.

The chocolate-colored colt, bought two years ago for $33,000 by K. D. Owen of Houston, Tex., is unbeaten in his last 22 starts and owns the best time of the season in his division of 1:59 3-5.

After rain washed out Tuesday's Grand Circuit card and prevented the 10 colts and the filly Armbro Flight from final workouts, today's forecast was for clear skies and cool temperatures.

Under the sun, the mile clay oval was expected to dry rapidly and be classed as good by the opening first heat at 1:55 p.m. EST.

A crowd of 35,000 was expected inside the gaily-festooned Du Quoin State Fairgrounds, where pari-mutuel betting is prohibited.

Armbro Flight, piloted by the two-time Hambletonian winner Joe O'Brienn was favored to give Noble Victory his severest test. The big filly, owned by the Armstrong brothers of Brampton, Ont., has not lost in 22 starts since being beaten by Noble Victory at Indianapolis a year ago. She has not faced a colt since.

Good support for pulling an upset was given rapidly-improving Short Stop, whose driver, Ned Bower, brought The Intruder home first as one of the Hambletonian's biggest longshots in 1956; Nimble Boy, going from the No. 1 post position and reined by Ralph Baldwin, who won with Speedy Scott in 1963; and Perfect Freight, a strong-finisher who has been consistently closer to Noble Victory than any other horse with Clint Hodgins at the reins.

Mississippi Gridder Dies

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The University of Mississippi opened its 1964 football practice a year ago today and before the day ended a sophomore halfback collapsed and died. The Rebels lost another player Tuesday — 364 days after the first one.

Mississippi started its 1965 practice session today.

Priester's death was the eighth football fatality reported in the last six days. It was also believed to be the first double fatality for a major college team within such a short time.

There were two other football deaths reported Tuesday.

Two Cincinnati U. Gridders Suspended

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two University of Cincinnati football players have been suspended indefinitely as the result of an incident involving two teen-aged girls.

UC Athletic Director George Smith announced the suspension Tuesday night after police charged Clem Turner, 20, Cincinnati, and Marvin Godfrye, 20, Pittsburgh, with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Police said the girls, aged 13 and 16, walked away Sunday from Longview State Hospital where they had been taken for behavioral problems. The girls told officers the football players picked them up Monday night and took them to an apartment where they were assaulted.

Open House Slated Thursday At Field

An open house will be held Thursday night at Patterson Field beginning at 7:30 when Potter football fans will receive an opportunity to inspect the improvements at the local gridiron which include new bleachers, a modern lighting system and the resodded football field. Head coach Bob McNea also will speak briefly on the Potter football program.

Pro Grid Leagues Cut Down Rosters

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Professional football's revolving doors were in full operation today as American and National League teams pared their rosters.

AFL clubs, trimming to 43 players plus All Stars who don't count against the limit, cut a flock of rookies to reach the quota while some veterans popped up among the NFL cutdowns which reduced rosters to 47 players.

Top names among those cut were 10-year veteran Dick James, sliced by the New York Giants, and defensive back Dick Pesonen dropped by the Washington Redskins.

James, the smallish running back, who came to the Giants from Washington in the Sam Huff deal last year, had been hampered by injuries and sat out all the exhibition games while Giant Coach Allie Sherman relied on his rookie backs.

Pesonen had been cut earlier by New York and was trying to catch on with the Redskins. He was one of six pared by Washington — the others were rookies.

Baltimore placed veteran center Dick Szymanski on the injured reserve list and cut two rookies, quarterback Tim Murphy of the Air Force Academy and punter Ron Perez from the University of Tampa.

Top casualties of the AFL cutdown were pass catcher Bake Turner of New York and fullback Larry Garron of Boston. Both were placed on the injured reserve list and must sit out at least the first two games of the regular season.

The Jets also asked waivers on injured guard Pete Perreault and sent defensive tackle Bob McAdams to Kansas City for rookie defensive end Charles Ragus of Northwestern Louisiana.

The Chiefs cut three rookies, flanker back Closter Richardson of Jackson State, Miss., defensive halfback Mickey Sutton of Auburn and punter Danny Thomas of Southern Methodist.

In addition to shelving Garron, the Patriots trimmed offensive guard Dave Watson, defensive back Dave Cloutier and rookie defensive end Tony Gibbons of John Carroll.

San Diego dropped three rookies, offensive end Don Floyd and place kicker Les Murdock, both of Florida State and defensive back Kern Carson of San Diego State.

Oakland dropped veteran linebacker Clancy Osborne and tackle Pat Russ. Osborne had been a starter for the past two seasons but was hampered with a bruised knee this year. Russ was a free agent.

In the NFL, Los Angeles traded two rookies to Pittsburgh and placed two other players on waivers. Center Ken Henson of Texas Christian and defensive back Bobby Hohn of Nebraska went to the Steelers for Frank Molden, a defensive lineman from Jackson, Miss. State College.

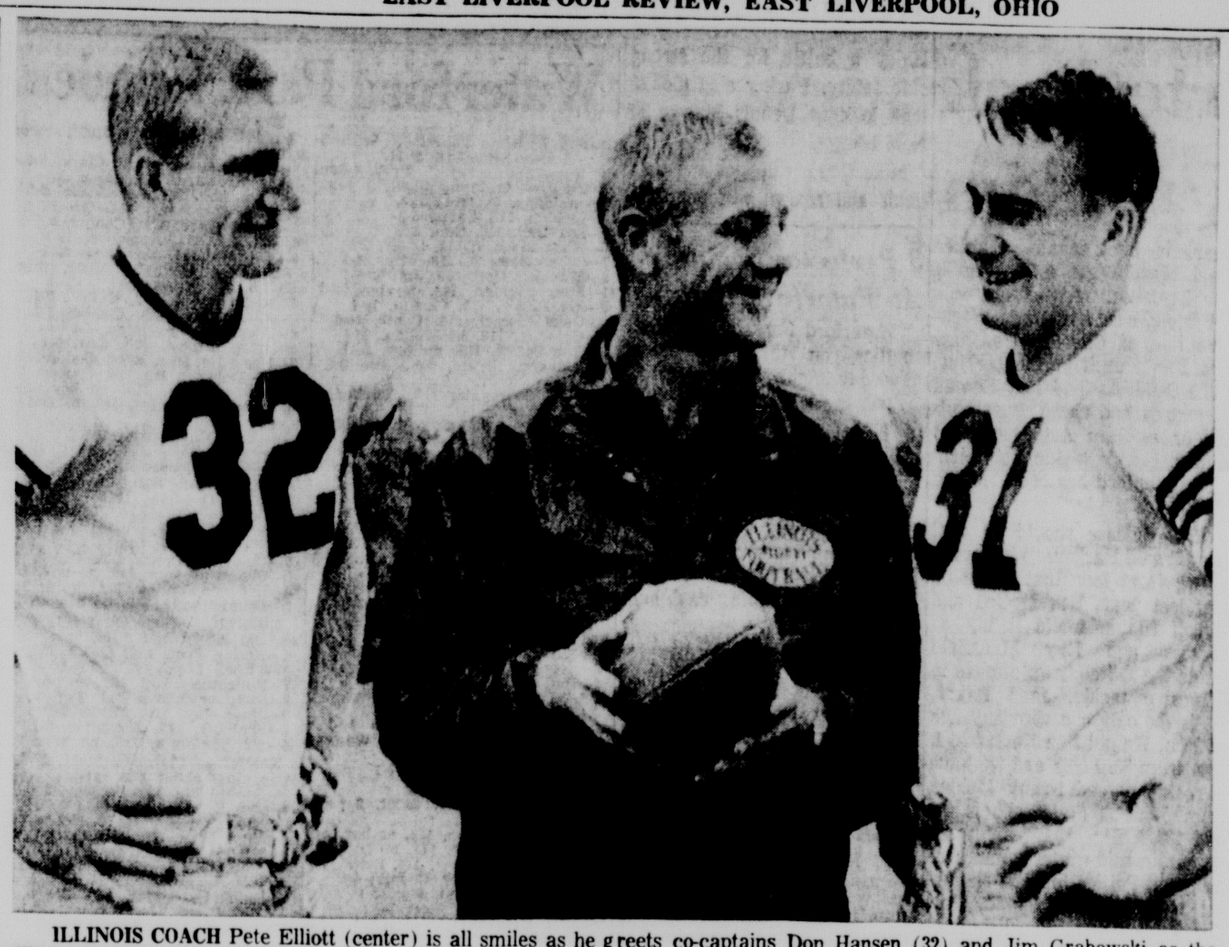

The Rams also asked waivers on second-year linebacker Andy Von Sonn and rookie defensive end Jim Griffin of Grambling.

Dallas signed defensive end Don Thompson, who had been cut by Philadelphia. The Cowboys also dropped Jim Zanios, a running back from Texas Tech and Bill Van Burkleo, a defensive halfback from Tulsa.

East Junior Gridders To Get Equipment

Equipment will be issued to football candidates at East Junior High School on Thursday. Coach John Swan requests freshmen to report at 11 a. m. and seventh and eighth graders at 1:30 p. m.

Big 10 Starts Drills Except Michigan U.

CHICAGO (AP)—With the exception of defending champion Michigan, Big Ten football teams will open practice today on a two-a-day workout basis.

Michigan, operating on the tri-semester academic schedule, opened its drills a week ago and is holding single practice sessions.

Irondale Gains Spot In League Playoff

Irondale went 12 innings to defeat Kilgore, 8-4, Sunday and earned a spot in the Tri-County League playoffs.

Irondale will meet Jewett Sunday in the first of best two out of three series.

Bill Terry's Son Sets Pace In Golf Play

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The son of a baseball Hall of Famer and an obscure New Mexico teen-ager had the lowest rounds, a pair of seven-under-par 137s, in the sectional qualifying rounds and stamped themselves as figures to be reckoned with in the National Amateur Golf Championships Sept. 15-18.

Ray Terry, son of Bill Terry, the last National Leaguer to hit .400, toured his home course, the 6,650-yard Timuquana Country Club course at Jacksonville, Fla., in 68-69 for the necessary 36 holes of qualifying play Tuesday.

Their rounds were the best shot by some 1,233 of the nation's best amateurs, competing over 36 holes in 27 locations for only 108 spots in the final field of 150 at the Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla.

The championship will be at stroke play this season for the first time in history and only 18 players — the 10 members of this country's Walker Cup team and eight of the 10 British Walker Cuppers — are exempt from qualifications. Twenty-four others qualified Monday.

U.S. Finishes Far Ahead In World Games

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The United States hauled in another top catch of medals in the seventh World Maccabiah Games and left behind another vast store of equipment to help Israel develop its promising sports program.

"We wanted to win as many medals as we could, but it was equally important for us to promote good will and physical fitness," said Haskell Cohen of New York, the head of the American team. "I feel confident we have succeeded in all respects."

The Americans wound up the nine-day Jewish Olympics with 75 gold medals, 12 more than they did four years ago. Israel, with a flock of teen-age prospect in swimming, track and field and gymnastics was second with 31, compared to 26 in 1961.

In the last three finals, held during the closing ceremonies Tuesday before about 50,000 at Ramat Gan Stadium, the Yankees won both the 400 and 1,600-meter relays, and Britain's Ray Roseman captured the 1,500 meter run in 3:51.2. Maccabiah records were set in all three races.

The 400 relay quartet of Gerry Ashworth, Haverhill, Mass.; Jay Paritz, Lexington, Ky.; Dick Robinson, Winnetka, Ill., and Dick Sheer, Silver Springs, Md., clipped six-tenths of a second off the record with 42.4 seconds.

The 1600 foursome of Ken Hendler, Valley Stream, N.Y.; Steve Lamb, Baltimore, Md.; Roger Wolff, Los Angeles, and Bill Shapiro, Asheville, N.C., was clocked in 3:12.6, knocking 5.4 seconds off the record.

Roseman took the 1,500 by about 30 meters from Dick Levy of Bayonne, N.J., in 3:51.2, beating the meet mark by 4.8 seconds. Levy was timed in 3:54.3 with Israel's Yair Pantil at third in 3:56.4.

Congress Again Eyes AAU, NCAA Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association take their feud back to Congress today with no indications it is any closer to a settlement.

At the direction of the Senate Commerce Committee, top officials of the two amateur sports groups sought to settle their jurisdictional dispute for six hours Tuesday in a downtown hotel room.

They adjourned the talks without issuing any statement and were scheduled to make a progress report to an executive session of the committee today.

Pro Grid Leagues Cut Down Rosters

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Professional football's revolving doors were in full operation today as American and National League teams pared their rosters.

AFL clubs, trimming to 43 players plus All Stars who don't count against the limit, cut a flock of rookies to reach the quota while some veterans popped up among the NFL cutdowns which reduced rosters to 47 players.

Top names among those cut were 10-year veteran Dick James, sliced by the New York Giants, and defensive back Dick Pesonen dropped by the Washington Redskins.

James, the smallish running back, who came to the Giants from Washington in the Sam Huff deal last year, had been hampered by injuries and sat out all the exhibition games while Giant Coach Allie Sherman relied on his rookie backs.

Pesonen had been cut earlier by New York and was trying to catch on with the Redskins. He was one of six pared by Washington — the others were rookies.

Baltimore placed veteran center Dick Szymanski on the injured reserve list and cut two rookies, quarterback Tim Murphy of the Air Force Academy and punter Ron Perez from the University of Tampa.

Top casualties of the AFL cutdown were pass catcher Bake Turner of New York and fullback Larry Garron of Boston. Both were placed on the injured reserve list and must sit out at least the first two games of the regular season.

The Jets also asked waivers on injured guard Pete Perreault and sent defensive tackle Bob McAdams to Kansas City for rookie defensive end Charles Ragus of Northwestern Louisiana.

The Chiefs cut three rookies, flanker back Closter Richardson of Jackson State, Miss., defensive halfback Mickey Sutton of Auburn and punter Danny Thomas of Southern Methodist.

In addition to shelving Garron, the Patriots trimmed offensive guard Dave Watson, defensive back Dave Cloutier and rookie defensive end Tony Gibbons of John Carroll.

San Diego dropped three rookies, offensive end Don Floyd and place kicker Les Murdock, both of Florida State and defensive back Kern Carson of San Diego State.

Oakland dropped veteran linebacker Clancy Osborne and tackle Pat Russ. Osborne had been a starter for the past two seasons but was hampered with a bruised knee this year. Russ was a free agent.

In the NFL, Los Angeles traded two rookies to Pittsburgh and placed two other players on waivers. Center Ken Henson of Texas Christian and defensive back Bobby Hohn of Nebraska went to the Steelers for Frank Molden, a defensive lineman from Jackson, Miss. State College.

The Rams also asked waivers on second-year linebacker Andy Von Sonn and rookie defensive end Jim Griffin of Grambling.

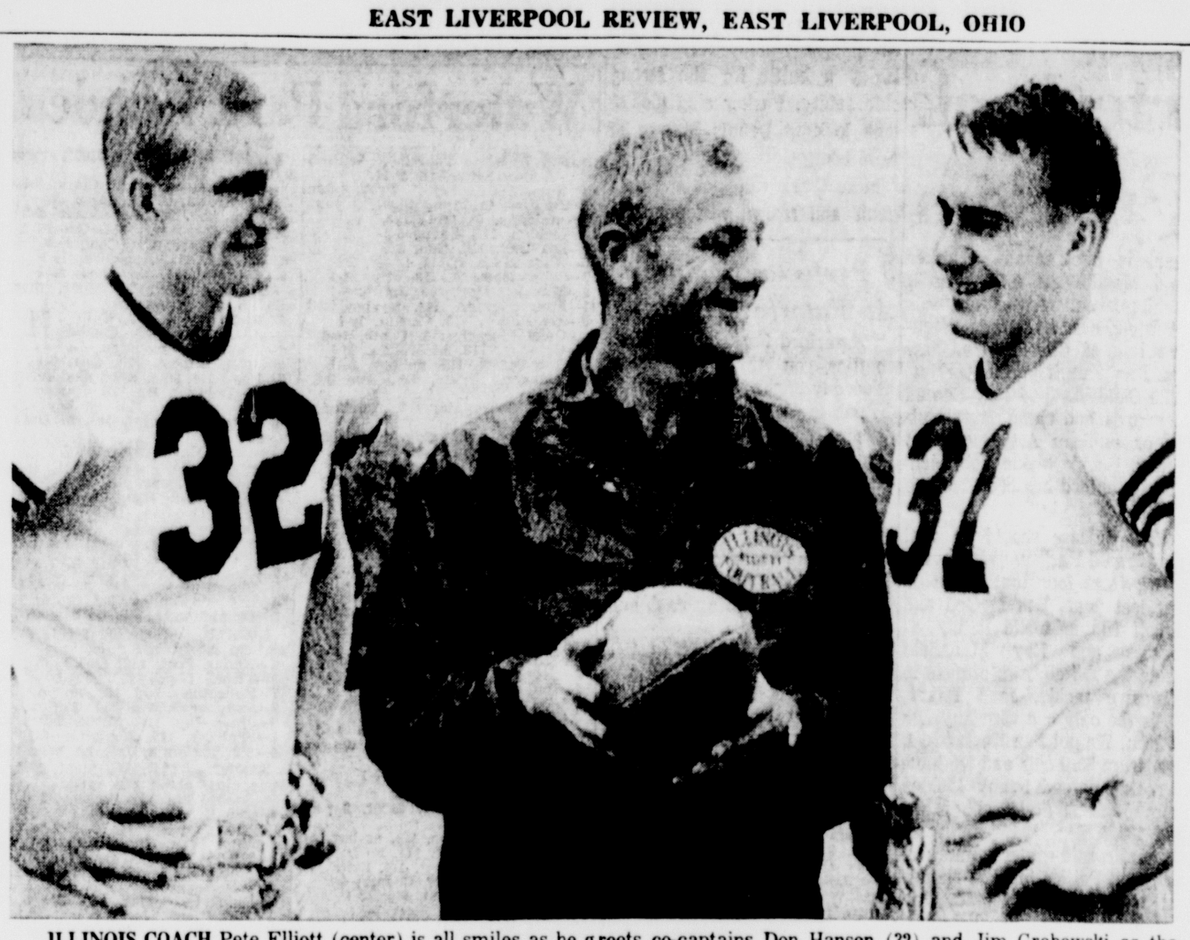

Dallas signed defensive end Don Thompson, who had been cut by Philadelphia. The Cowboys also dropped Jim Zanios, a running back from Texas Tech and Bill Van Burkleo, a defensive halfback from Tulsa.

Big 10 Starts Drills Except Michigan U.

CHICAGO (AP)—With the exception of defending champion Michigan, Big Ten football teams will open practice today on a two-a-day workout basis.

Michigan, operating on the tri-semester academic schedule, opened its drills a week ago and is holding single practice sessions.

Irondale Gains Spot In League Playoff

Irondale went 12 innings to defeat Kilgore, 8-4, Sunday and earned a spot in the Tri-County League playoffs.

Irondale will meet Jewett Sunday in the first of best two out of three series.

Bill Terry's Son Sets Pace In Golf Play

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The son of a baseball Hall of Famer and an obscure New Mexico teen-ager had the lowest rounds, a pair of seven-under-par 137s, in the sectional qualifying rounds and stamped themselves as figures to be reckoned with in the National Amateur Golf Championships Sept. 15-18.

Ray Terry, son of Bill Terry, the last National Leaguer to hit .400, toured his home course, the 6,650-yard Timuquana Country Club course at Jacksonville, Fla., in 68-69 for the necessary 36 holes of qualifying play Tuesday.

Their rounds were the best shot by some 1,233 of the nation's best amateurs, competing over 36 holes in 27 locations for only 108 spots in the final field of 150 at the Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla.

The championship will be at stroke play this season for the first time in history and only 18 players — the 10 members of this country's Walker Cup team and eight of the 10 British Walker Cuppers — are exempt from qualifications. Twenty-four others qualified Monday.

Finding Top Quarterback Remains Steeler Problem

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

KINGSTON, R.I. (AP) — Buddy Parker still is looking for a quarterback.

Ed Brown, his 36 - year - old passer, needs a little help if the Pittsburgh Steelers' offense is to match their rugged defense. Perhaps Bill Nelsen, a third year man from Southern California will turn out to be the answer.

The quarterback always is our problem," said Parker. "We've got to improve our passing attack. We'd like to get somebody to give Brown a lift. We are using the two boys — Tommy Wade of Texas and Nelsen — hoping one of them will come through. Nelsen really moved the club against Minnesota."

"Brown didn't have much confidence in his receivers last year," said Parker. "Gary Ballman was the only dependable catcher we had. You know we dropped 40 balls. And then our pass protection broke down. too."

Parker, preparing his Steelers for the season at their camp on the wide green practice fields at the University of Rhode Island, thinks his pass receivers will be better.

Among the things that have to click is Roy Jefferson, a 6-2, 19½-pound end from Utah, who was Pittsburgh's top draft choice. Jefferson got a late start because he was with the College All-Stars.

Ballman, a superior receiver who caught 47 for seven touchdowns despite constant double coverage, will be back at the flank. Clendon Thomas, converted from a defensive back to split end last season, should be better with a year under his belt. A healthy Jim Kelly will be at tight end.

"Our running game is pretty good," said Parker. "We have John Henry Johnson and a good hard-nosed kid in Dick Hoak who doesn't have much speed but is a hard worker. If this kid, Jim Butler comes along he should give us more speed than we have had in years."

Butler is a No. 14 draftee from obscure Edward Waters College in Jacksonville, Fla. He is a little fellow, only 5-9½ and 190 who answers to the name of Cannonball. Last year he scored 28 touchdowns including six in one game, a 142-0 romp over Friendship College. Clarence Peaks, who did a good job last year, is back again. Flanker Paul Martha got a look as a running back.

Parker has a veteran offensive line of Charlie Bradshaw and Dan James at the tackles, Mike Sandusky and Ray Lemek at guards and either Buzz Nutter or ex-Ram Art Hunter at center. Rookie tackle Bob Nichols of Stanford has been looking good.

"Our defense should be real good," said Parker. "We have a young front four that came on fast last year. Ben McGee and Chuck Hinton made it big as rookies and Ray Mansfield made the switch from offense to defensive tackle. John Baker, 29, is the only one with any age on him. We got Ken Kortas (6-4, 280) from St. Louis and we have a rookie named Frank Molden from Jackson State who is 6-5 and 285."

Despite mid-winter rumors of a Myron Pottios for Jim Ninowski trade with Cleveland, Pottios is back at middle linebacker. Max Messner and Bob Schmitz or Bill Saul probably will be his mates.

The secondary will have Willie Daniel or Marv Woodson of Indiana at one corner and Brady Keys at the other. Charlie Bradshaw will be the free safety.

Rookie Craig Lofquist of Minnesota has been giving Dick Haley a battle for the strong side safety. Parker also took a long look at Dennis Stuewe of Nebraska.

UN Assembly Due To End 19th Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly was expected to finish its paralyzed 19th session today by ratifying an agreement to bury the U.S. - soviet dispute over voting rights.

Endorsement of the agreement adopted Tuesday by a special committee on U.N. peacekeeping operations will clear the way for the assembly to return to a normal footing at its 20th session starting Sept. 21.

Main point of the agreement was "that the question of the applicability of Article 19 of the charter will not be raised with regard to the United Nations (Middleeast) emergency force and the United Nations operation in the Congo."

Article 19 provides that any country two years behind in its U.N. Dues shall have no assembly vote. The Soviet Union, France and 10 other nations are that far behind because they have refused to pay assembly assessments for peacekeeping expenses. The United States had insisted that they should not be allowed to vote.

To avoid a big-power clash, the assembly steered clear of voting and never got down to business.

The United States announced Aug. 26 it was abandoning its stand that the voting penalty should be applied.

Cleveland Police Checking Report On Slain Boy, 8

A neighbor talked to Young about 9 a.m., and police have been unable to trace his movements from then until his body was found in a field about 10 miles away.

A 50-year-old domestic servant told police Tuesday night she saw a boy of Young's description on a bus at 9:30 a.m. Aug. 24 well north of Shaker Heights but heading in the direction of Gates Mills.

Police have estimated that Young died about 10 a.m. from a .32-caliber bullet in the back of his head.

Communist China Warns U.S. And Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has warned the United States and Japan that it is "definitely not to be trifled with."

In a broadcast on the eve of a U.S.-Japan security conference in Tokyo Tuesday, the influential Peking newspaper Ta Kung Pao was quoted as saying:

The secondary will have Willie Daniel or Marv Woodson of Indiana at one corner and Brady Keys at the other. Charlie Bradshaw will be the free safety.

Rookie Craig Lofquist of Minnesota has been giving Dick Haley a battle for the strong side safety. Parker also took a long look at Dennis Stuewe of Nebraska.

UN Assembly Due To End 19th Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly was expected to finish its paralyzed 19th session today by ratifying an agreement to bury the U.S. - soviet dispute over voting rights.

Endorsement of the agreement adopted Tuesday by a special committee on U.N. peacekeeping operations will clear the way for the assembly to return to a normal footing at its 20th session starting Sept. 21.

Main point of the agreement was "that the question of the applicability of Article 19 of the charter will not be raised with regard to the United Nations (Middleeast) emergency force and the United Nations operation in the Congo."

Article 19 provides that any country two years behind in its U.N. Dues shall have no assembly vote. The Soviet Union, France and 10 other nations are that far behind because they have refused to pay assembly assessments for peacekeeping expenses. The United States had insisted that they should not be allowed to vote.

To avoid a big-power clash, the assembly steered clear of voting and never got down to business.

The United States announced Aug. 26 it was abandoning its stand that the voting penalty should be applied.

Cleveland Police Checking Report On Slain Boy, 8

A neighbor talked to Young about 9 a.m., and police have been unable to trace his movements from then until his body was found in a field about 10 miles away.

A 50-year-old domestic servant told police Tuesday night she saw a boy of Young's description on a bus at 9:30 a.m. Aug. 24 well north of Shaker Heights but heading in the direction of Gates Mills.

Police have estimated that Young died about 10 a.m. from a .32-caliber bullet in the back of his head.

Communist China Warns U.S. And Japan

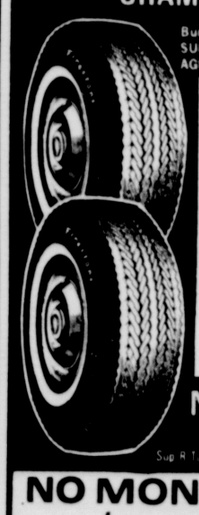

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has warned the United States and Japan that it is "definitely not to be trifled with."

In a broadcast on the eve of a U.S.-Japan security conference in Tokyo Tuesday, the influential Peking newspaper Ta Kung Pao was quoted as saying:

"The Chinese people would like to serve a serious warning to the U.S. and Japanese reactionaries that the history of Japanese militarist aggression against China will never be allowed to repeat itself. . . ."

Things To Be Grateful For In Troubled Time

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A few things to be grateful for in a troubled time:

The sight of sailboats racing on a wind-grooved sea. The sound of church bells at twilight. The purring contentment of cats and the eager inquisitiveness of puppies. Hearing two children doing their homework together.

Waiting in the dark for someone you love to arrive. Watching the happy faces of people greeting each other at air terminals. Reading a good novel that leaves you feeling that life is important and the human race worthwile. Opening a package sent by a distant friend. Finding more money in your wallet than you had thought was there.

Looking down on the peaceful face of a sleeping child. Lying awake in a railway bunk as the train roars through moonlit valleys and dozing towns. Seeing the wonderful patterns made by lightning during a night summer storm in the Midwest — as if heaven were putting on a Fourth of July fireworks show just for you.

Playing catch with the kids down the street and showing them you can still whip over a few fast ones. Waking up on Saturday morning and knowing Monday is still two full days away. Picking up a good luck penny from the widewalk. Finding an ideal parking place after driving around the block only twice.

Getting a pay raise when you were sure you'd been passed by for another year. Going to the dentist and being told he had hope of saving the tooth after all.

Kissing the honest wrinkles on the cheeks of an old lady you admire. Shaking hands with a retired man who earned his callouses from life the hard way. Clearing your conscience by paying a bill you've put off for too long. Dreaming a pleasant dream of someone you were fond of when young and who isn't around anymore.

The delightful terror of buying something you can't afford but don't want to do without. Listening to a carnival fortune teller stage-whisper fabulous lies about your fabulous future. Doing a kind deed for a stranger and seeing the surprised gratitude in his eyes.

Wondering at this world's strange blend of beauty and noise and suffering, but believing that something better is always on the way, heralded by bugles in the heart's ear of hope.

Nasser Wins Soviet Pledge Of More Aid

MOSCOW (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic left Moscow today after apparently boosting his image in the nonaligned world as a potential peacemaker in Viet Nam.

Nasser also won Soviet pledges for more aid to Egypt.

He ended five days of talks with top Soviet leaders and flew to Belgrade to meet with President Tito of Yugoslavia.

Details of Nasser's Viet Nam peace plan, which he discussed with Kremlin leaders, remained under wraps. But they may be outlined in a forthcoming communique.

Rae The Rooster 'Down In Beak'; May Miss College

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Rae the rooster is down in the beak these days — he may have to miss college.

Miss Shields lives in Scottsdale, 120 miles from the campus and will be residing in a campus dormitroy. The dorm houses chicks — but not chickens.

The coed has written the Tucson Daily Citizen to run an ad for a place for Rae to stay in Tucson.

"He is well-trained; he comes when I call, and he wears a leash," she says.

Things To Be Grateful For In Troubled Time

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A few things to be grateful for in a troubled time:

The sight of sailboats racing on a wind-grooved sea. The sound of church bells at twilight. The purring contentment of cats and the eager inquisitiveness of puppies. Hearing two children doing their homework together.

Waiting in the dark for someone you love to arrive. Watching the happy faces of people greeting each other at air terminals. Reading a good novel that leaves you feeling that life is important and the human race worthwile. Opening a package sent by a distant friend. Finding more money in your wallet than you had thought was there.

Looking down on the peaceful face of a sleeping child. Lying awake in a railway bunk as the train roars through moonlit valleys and dozing towns. Seeing the wonderful patterns made by lightning during a night summer storm in the Midwest — as if heaven were putting on a Fourth of July fireworks show just for you.

Playing catch with the kids down the street and showing them you can still whip over a few fast ones. Waking up on Saturday morning and knowing Monday is still two full days away. Picking up a good luck penny from the widewalk. Finding an ideal parking place after driving around the block only twice.

Getting a pay raise when you were sure you'd been passed by for another year. Going to the dentist and being told he had hope of saving the tooth after all.

Kissing the honest wrinkles on the cheeks of an old lady you admire. Shaking hands with a retired man who earned his callouses from life the hard way. Clearing your conscience by paying a bill you've put off for too long. Dreaming a pleasant dream of someone you were fond of when young and who isn't around anymore.

The delightful terror of buying something you can't afford but don't want to do without. Listening to a carnival fortune teller stage-whisper fabulous lies about your fabulous future. Doing a kind deed for a stranger and seeing the surprised gratitude in his eyes.

Wondering at this world's strange blend of beauty and noise and suffering, but believing that something better is always on the way, heralded by bugles in the heart's ear of hope.

Details of Nasser's Viet Nam peace plan, which he discussed with Kremlin leaders, remained under wraps. But they may be outlined in a forthcoming communique.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Rae the rooster is down in the beak these days — he may have to miss college.

New Apartment Project Set Here

A new apartment project costing an estimated $275,000 will be erected at Gaston Pl. by Herman Hoppel of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd.

The project, to be called the Marshall Apartments, will have 24 separate units. The artist's drawing above shows 12 of the proposed units.

Hoppel said construction is expected to begin immediately, with some of the apartments to be ready for occupancy no later than January.

Hoppel will do his own construction work. He already has several other apartments in the area.

Extensive grading will be done on the property, although the old stone wall around it will be left intact. Some of the large trees also will be left standing.

Each will have an individual entrance and each will contain five rooms including two bedrooms. Each also will have its own facilities for a laundry, although there probably will be one central laundry, Hoppel said.

Parking facilities will be provided for each unit. Although the apartments will be located on two levels, each will be self-contained in a one floor plan.

The entire structure will be of brick. The W. E. (Pete) Kaiser real estate agency handled the transaction.

fringe benefits of $4.40 per hour. The union figures its original 53-cent demand at 4 per cent and the industry says its 40.6-cent offer amounts to 3 per cent.

However, union, industry and government all interpret the figures differently.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said two negotiating subcommittees Tuesday dealt with wages and pensions, with two union and two industry representatives on each subgroup.

Pensions are reportedly the widest area of difference between the two sides. The industry reportedly fears an early retirement provision demanded by the union would sharply increase retirements and pension costs.

"The President wants a fair, just and noninflationary settlement," Moyers said, but added the administration has made no specific proposal.

He described the talks as "true collective bargaining," with Wirtz and Connor acting more as "catalysts" than mediators.

But the presence of Wirtz and Connor serves to remind union and industry negotiators of the public interest and the urgency Johnson has expressed, Moyers said.

Police Capture Pony Wandering On Street

Working in a driving rainstorm about dawn today, police rounded up a stray pony wandering in the Bank St. area and returned it to its owner.

Patrolman Ronald J. Brookes was dispatched after officers received a telephoned report at 6:30 that the small black pony was loose on Bank St. near Laura Ave. A Laura Ave. resident made the report.

The officer rounded up the pony and asked for instructions. A city truck was scheduled to pick up the animal and haul it to the police garage, but the unidentified owner appeared about that time and reclaimed his steed, police reported.

cell pressurization and water stowage systems, jet control thrusters, and an apparent ground error which misinformed the computer, causing Gemini 5 to land 103 miles short of its target.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, Gemini flight surgeon, said two days of exhaustive medical tests showed Cooper and Conrad were in excellent condition.

The flight proved that man, physically, is ready to travel to the moon, he said Tuesday.

"At the moment," Dr. Berry said, "I can say that Cooper and Conrad appear to be certainly no worse off than the Gemini 4 crew, and in many respects they look somewhat better.

"They look less tired, as if the flight took less toll of them physically than the Gemini 4 mission."

Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II spent four days in space in Gemini 4.

Dr. Berry said the conditions of Cooper and Conrad give him confidence that the Gemini 7 mission can be carried out in December as planned. That will be a 14-day trip by astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. The next flight, Gemini 6, will be a two-day rendezvous and docking mission with another satellite.

New Apartment Project Set Here

A new apartment project costing an estimated $275,000 will be erected at Gaston Pl. by Herman Hoppel of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd.

The project, to be called the Marshall Apartments, will have 24 separate units. The artist's drawing above shows 12 of the proposed units.

Hoppel said construction is expected to begin immediately, with some of the apartments to be ready for occupancy no later than January.

Hoppel will do his own construction work. He already has several other apartments in the area.

Extensive grading will be done on the property, although the old stone wall around it will be left intact. Some of the large trees also will be left standing.

Each will have an individual entrance and each will contain five rooms including two bedrooms. Each also will have its own facilities for a laundry, although there probably will be one central laundry, Hoppel said.

Parking facilities will be provided for each unit. Although the apartments will be located on two levels, each will be self-contained in a one floor plan.

The entire structure will be of brick. The W. E. (Pete) Kaiser real estate agency handled the transaction.

fringe benefits of $4.40 per hour. The union figures its original 53-cent demand at 4 per cent and the industry says its 40.6-cent offer amounts to 3 per cent.

However, union, industry and government all interpret the figures differently.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said two negotiating subcommittees Tuesday dealt with wages and pensions, with two union and two industry representatives on each subgroup.

Pensions are reportedly the widest area of difference between the two sides. The industry reportedly fears an early retirement provision demanded by the union would sharply increase retirements and pension costs.

"The President wants a fair, just and noninflationary settlement," Moyers said, but added the administration has made no specific proposal.

He described the talks as "true collective bargaining," with Wirtz and Connor acting more as "catalysts" than mediators.

But the presence of Wirtz and Connor serves to remind union and industry negotiators of the public interest and the urgency Johnson has expressed, Moyers said.

Police Capture Pony Wandering On Street

Working in a driving rainstorm about dawn today, police rounded up a stray pony wandering in the Bank St. area and returned it to its owner.

Patrolman Ronald J. Brookes was dispatched after officers received a telephoned report at 6:30 that the small black pony was loose on Bank St. near Laura Ave. A Laura Ave. resident made the report.

The officer rounded up the pony and asked for instructions. A city truck was scheduled to pick up the animal and haul it to the police garage, but the unidentified owner appeared about that time and reclaimed his steed, police reported.

cell pressurization and water stowage systems, jet control thrusters, and an apparent ground error which misinformed the computer, causing Gemini 5 to land 103 miles short of its target.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, Gemini flight surgeon, said two days of exhaustive medical tests showed Cooper and Conrad were in excellent condition.

The flight proved that man, physically, is ready to travel to the moon, he said Tuesday.

"At the moment," Dr. Berry said, "I can say that Cooper and Conrad appear to be certainly no worse off than the Gemini 4 crew, and in many respects they look somewhat better.

"They look less tired, as if the flight took less toll of them physically than the Gemini 4 mission."

Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II spent four days in space in Gemini 4.

Dr. Berry said the conditions of Cooper and Conrad give him confidence that the Gemini 7 mission can be carried out in December as planned. That will be a 14-day trip by astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. The next flight, Gemini 6, will be a two-day rendezvous and docking mission with another satelhte.

O'Hanlon pointed out a new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to election day.

Persons must register if they haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; changed their name by marriage or court action, or changed their residence since the last election. Persons who will be 21 on or before the general election date also may register, even though the birthday falls after the enrollment deadline.

Betsy Regains Power, Starts Toward U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy regained strength today and started edging toward the U.S. coastline while Weather Bureau scientists pondered whether to try and seed the storm with silver iodide.

The 5 a.m. advisory said that Betsy had winds of 80 miles per hour near the center and had started moving toward the west at about 6 miles per hour.

The storm had remained stationary for more than 24 hours and decreased to tropical storm state with maximum winds of 65 miles per hour until early today.

The storm was reported centered 875 miles east of Miami and 260 miles north northwest of San Juan, P.R.

The Weather Bureau cautioned residents in the Bahamas to keep in touch with the latest advisories. The bureau also said the storm posed no threat to the U.S. mainland for the next two days but was expected to continue moving westward and grow in size and intensity.

1,002 Named To Staff 167 Voting Places

The County Election Board has named 1,002 men and women to serve as judges and clerks in its 167 precinct polling places for the general election Nov. 2 and the primaries in May 1966, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

Official notices are on the way to the appointees. Three Democrats and three Republicans are named in each polling place, with one designated as presiding judge.

Recent creation of two new polling places in St. Clair Township raised the number of precincts to 167. For several years, the county had 165 voting places, staffed by 990 persons.

The appointments are based primarily on the recommendations of each major party's county central committeemen, commonly called precinct committemen.

Meanwhile, O'Hanlon said the Election Board has made a determination that 14 precincts, rather than 15 as originally supposed, will be involved in the special election Sept. 21 in the Wellsville City School District on a proposed $846,000 bond issue and a companion half-mill tax levy.

An exhaustive investigation has disclosed that no Wellsville City School District electors reside in the Southwest Precinct of Yellow Creek Township, O'Hanlon pointed out. The area lies predominently in the Southern Local School District.

The question over the status of the lone precinct as it relates to the Wellsville district was raised shortly after the special election was scheduled.

Raymond Rolley, clerk of the Wellsville Board of Education, has advised the Election Board that no Wellsville School District electors reside in the precinct in question and has agreed that it should be dropped from the list of precincts in the school district, O'Hanlon said. His finding was supported by Walter Boyd, Yellow Creek Township clerk, O'Hanlon added, as well as by the board's own investigation.

The final determination shows the school district is comprised of all of Wellsville City, two Yellow Creek Township precincts — instead of three — and the Glasgow Precinct of Madison Township.

Dropping the Southwest Precinct will save the school district about $100 in expenses for the special election, O'Hanlon said.

Lack Of Data Delays Action Upon Project

NEW CUMBERLAND — Representatives of the Hancock County Planning Commission, including Ray Shaw, president, Thomas L. Donovan, and Michael Sinicropi, met with the Hancock County Court of Commissioners in a special session at the courthouse Tuesday night.

Shaw asked the court if a letter of intent had been received from SWATS in connection with the court's share of the cost of the comprehensive plans for the metropolitan area.

When informed the court had not yet received the letter, further action was tabled until next Tuesday, when the commissioners will again meet.

Donovan discussed the subject of incinerators throughout the county. Jack Evans, commissioner moved that a letter be prepared authorizing the planning commission to make a formal study of the different types of incinerators which could be used and the best locations for placing them. The motion was passed unanimously. A full report of the commission's study will be submitted at a later meeting.

James Finley, court president, and William Graham, commissioner, were present at the meeting. George Konchar, county clerk, also attended.

Charge Filed In Gun Death Of Area Girl

A first - degree manslaughter charge has been filed against Robert Underwood, 28, of Youngstown in the fatal shooting of a former East Liverpool girl Sunday outside a private club in Youngstown's East Side.

Underwood, who is unemployed, pleaded not guilty during a preliminary hearing Tuesday on the charge in connection with the death of Laura Ann Bryan, 19, of Youngstown.

Underwood, free on $1,500 bond until a hearing Sept. 9 before Judge Martin P. Joyce, said he was twirling a .38-caliber revolver outside the club when the girl struck at the gun, causing it to fire.

She died from a bullet wound in the right temple. She was the daughter of Mrs. Mary Louise Hissam Clapsaddle of East Liverpool and Samuel J. Bryan of Canton.

Services were held this morning, with burial in Locust Hill Cemetery.

The total length of the East Liverpool project is 2.42 miles. It stretches from a point near State St. to the Ohio - Pennsylvania state line.

The Highway Department advised local officials the East End project was estimated at $50,000. The city's share is $8,000.

The resurfacing of Route 43 in Jefferson County covers sections in Springfield Township and the village of Amsterdam. The work on Route 152 in Jefferson County calls for resurfacing in Salem, Island Creek and Knox Townships and the villages of Richmond and Empire.

At another point, the source recounted, one union man took issue with a Johnson remark. "I'm sorry, Mr. President, you're poorly informed," he was quoted as saying.

Colorful, Economical Hobby For Motorists

NEW YORK (AP) — A colorful — and economical — fall hobby for motorists cruising the countryside is digging their own chrystanthemum plants right at the growers' fields.

Professional growers are now producing more than 300 varieties of field grown mums for dig-it-yourself fanciers of these beautiful fall favorites. Diggers may pick up at least six mum plants for the price ordinarily paid for one in the city.

It's wise to take along a half dozen or so clay pots, so you'll have instant, healthful containers ready when you spot a roadside field of chrysanthemu plants ready for the digging.

Buffet Salad, Supper Or Luncheon Entree

This Pineapple Aspic Salad has excellent flavor and texture. The spicy piquance makes it a good relish accompaniment to the popular buffet foods like sliced turkey, ham and cheese. Or it is equally good with the casserole dishes often served at small buffets.

Centered with shrimp, chicken or tuna salad, it becomes an entree in it's own right. This is a recipe to keep on file for several occasions.

While the base of pineapple aspic is a combination of lemon gelatin and tomato sauce, the addition of refreshing sweet crushed pineapple gives this salad a unique flavor. Celery and onions are added for a touch of crispness. The remaining seasonings blend all the flavors into a wonderfully versatile salad or relish.

PINEAPPLE ASPIC

1 package (3-oz.) lemon flavor gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 can (8-oz.) tomato sauce
1½ cups drained crushed pineapple (no. 2 or 1 lb., 4½-oz. can)
¼ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
½ teaspoon worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Dissolve lemon gelatin in boiling water. Stir in tomato sauce, drained crushed pineapple, chopped celery, chopped green onion, and seasonings. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir, then chill until set, or turn into a 1-quart ring mold, and chill until firm. Unmold on serving plate. Garnish with lettuce and fill center with shrimp salad, if desired. Makes 8-10 servings.

After considerable debate, the Senate passed 17-12 a bill permitting on-premises sale of liquor and beer at breweries. This administration proposal, aimed at luring a $50 million brewery for the Columbus area, drew a sharp retort from Sen. Anthony Calabrese, D - Cuyahoga, who said the bill would have "the big guy—the beer monopoly — choking the little guy, the permit holder."

Two other proposals which had been sent to House-Senate conference committees came up before both houses in the hectic final minutes.

The Senate passed both of them, but the House defeated 76-40, thus killing a constitutional resolution calling for incumbent public officials to receive the same pay as officials newly elected to the same office if there has been an interim salary increase.

The Senate and House okayed a conference committee report on a measure setting up new municipal courts in Fremont, Mason, Bowling Green and Vermilion—and expanding the jurisdiction of several others.

The omnibus court measure eliminates the municipal court at Wyoming in suburban Cincinnati in 1967 but keeps the police courts at Ottawa Hills, a Toledo suburb.

Both houses scheduled skeleton sessions for today for the purpose of signing bills acted on Tuesday night and for handling other routine matters.

Lack Of Data Delays Action Upon Project

NEW CUMBERLAND — Representatives of the Hancock County Planning Commission, including Ray Shaw, president, Thomas L. Donovan, and Michael Sinicropi, met with the Hancock County Court of Commissioners in a special session at the courthouse Tuesday night.

Shaw asked the court if a letter of intent had been received from SWATS in connection with the court's share of the cost of the comprehensive plans for the metropolitan area.

When informed the court had not yet received the letter, further action was tabled until next Tuesday, when the commissioners will again meet.

Donovan discussed the subject of incinerators throughout the county. Jack Evans, commissioner moved that a letter be prepared authorizing the planning commission to make a formal study of the different types of incinerators which could be used and the best locations for placing them. The motion was passed unanimously. A full report of the commission's study will be submitted at a later meeting.

James Finley, court president, and William Graham, commissioner, were present at the meeting. George Konchar, county clerk, also attended.

Charge Filed In Gun Death Of Area Girl

A first - degree manslaughter charge has been filed against Robert Underwood, 28, of Youngstown in the fatal shooting of a former East Liverpool girl Sunday outside a private club in Youngstown's East Side.

Underwood, who is unemployed, pleaded not guilty during a preliminary hearing Tuesday on the charge in connection with the death of Laura Ann Bryan, 19, of Youngstown.

Underwood, free on $1,500 bond until a hearing Sept. 9 before Judge Martin P. Joyce, said he was twirling a .38-caliber revolver outside the club when the girl struck at the gun, causing it to fire.

She died from a bullet wound in the right temple. She was the daughter of Mrs. Mary Louise Hissam Clapsaddle of East Liverpool and Samuel J. Bryan of Canton.

Services were held this morning, with burial in Locust Hill Cemetery.

2.26 miles on State Route 39 of Yellow Creek Township in Columbiana County and sections of State Routes 43 and 152 in Jefferson County.

The total length of the East Liverpool project is 2.42 miles. It stretches from a point near State St. to the Ohio - Pennsylvania state line.

The Highway Department advised local officials the East End project was estimated at $50,000. The city's share is $8,000.

The resurfacing of Route 43 in Jefferson County covers sections in Springfield Township and the village of Amsterdam. The work on Route 152 in Jefferson County calls for resurfacing in Salem, Island Creek and Knox Townships and the villages of Richmond and Empire.

for a strike postponement, was quoted as replying in roughly these terms:

"Now Charlie, you're a Texan and I'm a Texan and it's not like one of those damyankees asking you to do this."

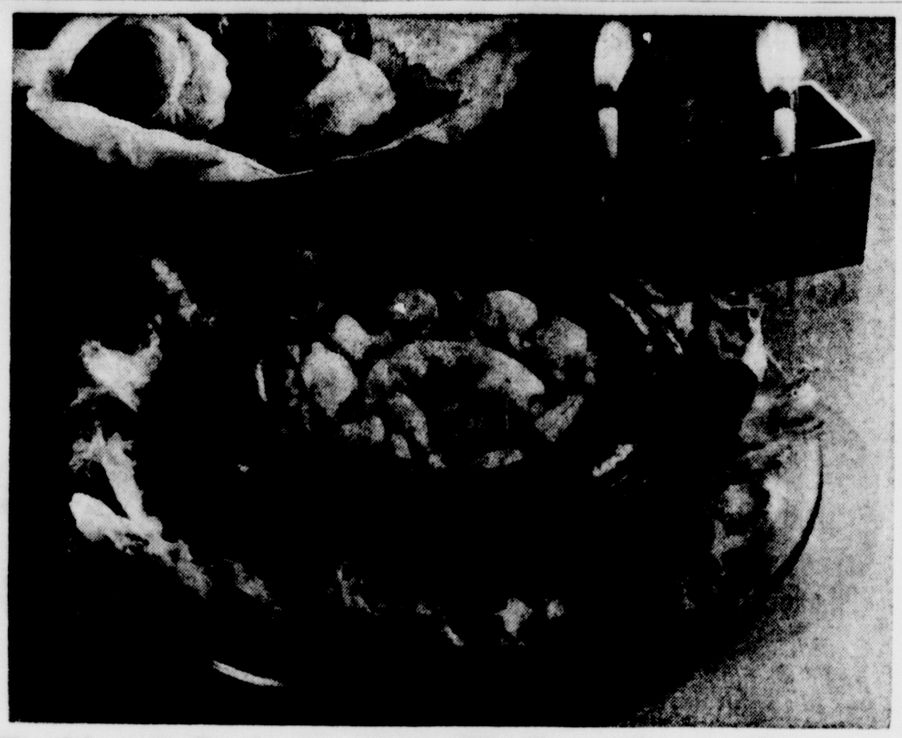

At another point, the source recounted, one union man took issue with a Johnson remark. "I'm sorry, Mr. President, you're poorly informed," he was quoted as saying.

Colorful, Economical Hobby For Motorists

NEW YORK (AP) — A colorful — and economical — fall hobby for motorists cruising the countryside is digging their own chrystanthemum plants right at the growers' fields.

Professional growers are now producing more than 300 varieties of field grown mums for dig-it-yourself fanciers of these beautiful fall favorites. Diggers may pick up at least six mum plants for the price ordinarily paid for one in the city.

It's wise to take along a half dozen or so clay pots, so you'll have instant, healthful containers ready when you spot a roadside field of chrysanthemu plants ready for the digging.

Buffet Salad, Supper Or Luncheon Entree

This Pineapple Aspic Salad has excellent flavor and texture. The spicy piquance makes it a good relish accompaniment to the popular buffet foods like sliced turkey, ham and cheese. Or it is equally good with the casserole dishes often served at small buffets.

Centered with shrimp, chicken or tuna salad, it becomes an entree in it's own right. This is a recipe to keep on file for several occasions.

While the base of pineapple aspic is a combination of lemon gelatin and tomato sauce, the addition of refreshing sweet crushed pineapple gives this salad a unique flavor. Celery and onions are added for a touch of crispness. The remaining seasonings blend all the flavors into a wonderfully versatile salad or relish.

PINEAPPLE ASPIC

1 package (3-oz.) lemon flavor gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 can (8-oz.) tomato sauce
1½ cups drained crushed pineapple (no. 2 or 1 lb., 4½-oz. can)
¼ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
½ teaspoon worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Dissolve lemon gelatin in boiling water. Stir in tomato sauce, drained crushed pineapple, chopped celery, chopped green onion, and seasonings. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir, then chill until set, or turn into a 1-quart ring mold, and chill until firm. Unmold on serving plate. Garnish with lettuce and fill center with shrimp salad, if desired. Makes 8-10 servings.

Classes Begin Tuesday

Southern Local Sees Slight Rise

There were 1,424 pupils in the six schools of the district last year, Jack Baker, executive head, reported.

The schools include Salineville, Highlandtown, Wayne No 16, Franklin and the high school near here.

There will be a full day of classes Tuesday, with all cafeterias in operation Baker said.

Bus routes will be the same as last year, with any changes to be announced later next week.

The faculty is now complete, Baker reported, with the hiring of Ernest Rea of Salem R.D. 3 as general math instructor and Mrs. Alice Balser of Portage County for Franklin School's upper elementary grades.

Rea is attending Youngstown University. Mrs. Balser, who has a master's degree from Kent State University, has been teaching for 20 years.

Mrs. Marjorie Roberts, fifth- and sixth-grade instructor at Franklin, has been named principal there, succeeding John Gruszecki, who resigned to become director of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's School at Elkton.

The teachers will have a general meeting Friday morning at 9:30, followed by a lunch. Teachers will meet in their respective buildings in the afternoon.

The board will meet Sept. 13.

2.5 Million Await Data On 2 New Medical Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beginning today, 2.5 million retired Americans are getting word from the government on two new medical programs available to them under the expanded Social Security System.

The information includes an application card for the voluntary program — the medical plan which provides protection against most doctor bills.

The first of the kits were sent out Tuesday night.

No action is required for the hospitalization and nursing care program. Inclusion is automatic for anyone on the Social Security rolls.

Mailing will continue at the rate of 2.5 million a week until the government reaches the 15.5 million Americans now under Social Security or railroad retirement.

Today also is the first day those 65 or older who are not on the benefit rolls may qualify for the hospital plan and enroll in the medical program at their local Social Security office.

The two programs become effective July 1, 1966.

Another mass mailing to carry out provisions of the new Social Security amendments will begin Sept. 15 and take about a week. This will include checks totaling $885 million to cover the 7 per cent increase in Social Security cash benefits retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965.

The application card for the voluntary medical plan should be returned to the Social Security Administration in the postage-free envelope included in the kit.

This option must be exercised by March 31, 1966, to qualify. Cost will be $3 a month. The payment may be deducted from the monthly Social Security benefit check beginning next July or paid in cash. The government will match the payment.

An estimated 90 per cent of Americans 65 and older will be mailed kits. More than half the remaining 10 per cent receive old-age assistance and will hear from state agencies.

The remaining 5 per cent will be informed of their rights through organizations in touch with older people and through other publicity.

39,598 Turn Out For Fair Despite Rain

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP)—If it had to rain at all this week, Mother Nature picked a good day for it Tuesday.

Only casualty of the weather was the harness racing. The consolation trot for 2-year-olds was canceled, while other scheduled races were carried over to today.

Today is the big day for one of the fair's several queens. "Miss Ohio State Fair," the "Queen of Queens," will be crowned tonight.

Another queen was selected Tuesday. Carol Hall, 16, of Middletown was named "Miss Junior Achievement."

The final grandstand performance of the Andy Williams show is tonight, followed by the Hullabaloo show Thursday and Friday nights, Jimmy Dean Saturday and Sunday and the Mike Douglas show Monday.

People Wondered—Will It Work?

Storekeepers In Fresno Praise Pedestrian Mall

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — One year ago the City of Fresno, in a spectacular reply to the lure of suburban shopping centers, ripped out 10 blocks of its main downtown business street and put in a pedestrian mall.

People wondered — will it work?

Today, busily waiting on customers who stroll in from the flowery, tree-shaded mall, storekeepers are almost unanimous in answering that, yes it is working, fabulously well.

About the only opposition has come from one shoe store owner who declines to give his reasons. He planted onions in one of the flowerbeds as a form of protest.

Downtown Fulton Street was noisy, dirty, clogged with cars, and parking was a long-shot gamble.

Today the $1.6-million, 10-block mall, financed by urban renewal and local funds, is a sprightly place. It invites strollers to relax and seems to put them in a buying mood.

For those who tire of walking, there are pleasant, quiet electric carts, chauffer-driven at 10 cents a ride.

Nearby parking is cheap or free, but still not entirely adequate.

Tom Hoxie, executive director of the Downtown Association, a merchants group which cooperated closely in the planning, said, "The mall is fabulous. It has beauty and utility."

Some skeptics say it came too late to reverse the trend of a dying downtown, but concede it has at least halted the decay.

There still are complaints about parking being insufficient.

Donald Pollard, deputy city manager, says the city recognizes the need and eight large parking garages are being built or planned, plus designs for a new freeway with easy access.

Pollard estimates he has conducted tours for 85 groups from other cities interested in similar projects.

He said the mall has been a big factor in a record $42 million invested downtown in the past two years — more than during the previous 40 years.

Actually, the mall is the existing glamorous showpiece of a redevelopment program that include an 18-block "superblock" and 2,000 outlying acres.

The mall merchants treasure the words of a housewife, who said, "It makes me want to come downtown to shop."

Peace Plan Step To Elections

OAS Given Full Accord, Ending Dominican Crisis

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Organization of American States secured a full agreement today terminating the 4-month-old Dominican crisis.

The peace formula insured the installation of a provisional government Friday as a first step toward general elections in nine months.

Rebel leaders cheered the peace plan. Heads of the armed forces, taking over after the rival civilian-military junta stepped aside, pledged full support to the provisional government.

The peace proposal was signed first by the insurgent regime behind rebel lines Tuesday night. Then Dominican armed forces leaders, meeting at the headquarters of the junta, signed a declaration of support for the peace plan and the provisional government.

The government terminated nearly three months of peace efforts by the three-man OAS political committee of Ambassadors Ellsworth Bunker of the United States, Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador and Ilmar Penna Marinho of Brazil.

His provisional government will negotiate withdrawal of the OAS peace force, composed of 9,000 U.S. and 2,000 Latin-American troops, still patrolling the battle-scarred capital.

The peacekeeping troops took over after the initial U.S. intervention in the rebellion which erupted April 24 in an abortive effort to bring former President Juan D. Bosch back to power.

College's Fiscal Operations Cited In Examiner's Report

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Vigorous action" to collect money due Central State College has been urged in a state examiner's report which held sharp criticism for the college's fiscal operations.

The 82-page report of the examiners criticized "loose handling of tuition and registration fees" and recommended a complete overhaul of the accounting system to place the college "on a sound financial basis."

State Auditor Chester W. Goble, in releasing the report Tuesday, said it culminated a seven-month investigation by a team of three examiners. He said that from July 1, 1961 through Dec. 31, 1964, state fees chargeable for tuition and registration at the predominantly Negro school amounted to $1,104,991, of which only $527,500.58 found its way into the state's general revenue fund.

Goble said after adjustments for scholarships, refunds and fees, there remained a net amount of $368,946.86 in unpaid fees which examiners said are of "doubtful collectability."

There was a gathering of officials in Goble's office to review the report. Among those present were Dr. John Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents; John H. Bustamante, Cleveland, newly elected chairman of Central State's trustees and Dr. Lewis A. Jackson, acting president of Central State.

Bustamante said later that the board asked for the audit because of a recent change in the school's administration.

He also said the board had begun some corrective action before the disclosures in the audit.

Man Who Led 2 Lives Meets With His First Family

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—John F. (Fritz) Johnson, whose double life here and in Akron, Ohio, was revealed several months ago, met with his first family this week after a separation of seven years.

Johnson held a reunion with Mary Lou Bader, his Akron wife, and their four children Sunday and Monday at La-Grange, Ill., according to Omaha attorney Harry Farnham.

Farnham said not attorneys or other relatives were present at the meeting and the two talked over mutual problems, but no decisions were reached.

Johnson was Lawrence Bader of Akron before he disappeared while on a fishing trip in 1957. A few days later he appeared in Omaha and later married Nancy Zimmer.

The Johnsons had two children. When the double identity was revealed, Fritz and Nancy obtained an annulment of their marriage.

Worker Injured In Job Accident

People Wondered—Will It Work?

Storekeepers In Fresno Praise Pedestrian Mall

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — One year ago the City of Fresno, in a spectacular reply to the lure of suburban shopping centers, ripped out 10 blocks of its main downtown business street and put in a pedestrian mall.

People wondered — will it work?

Today, busily waiting on customers who stroll in from the flowery, tree-shaded mall, storekeepers are almost unanimous in answering that, yes it is working, fabulously well.

About the only opposition has come from one shoe store owner who declines to give his reasons. He planted onions in one of the flowerbeds as a form of protest.

Downtown Fulton Street was noisy, dirty, clogged with cars, and parking was a long-shot gamble.

Today the $1.6-million, 10-block mall, financed by urban renewal and local funds, is a sprightly place. It invites strollers to relax and seems to put them in a buying mood.

Beds of flowers are kept in bloom, and $150,000 worth of modern statuary adds to the atmosphere.

For those who tire of walking, there are pleasant, quiet electric carts, chauffer-driven at 10 cents a ride.

Nearby parking is cheap or free, but still not entirely adequate.

Tom Hoxie, executive director of the Downtown Association, a merchants group which cooperated closely in the planning, said, "The mall is fabulous. It has beauty and utility."

Some skeptics say it came too late to reverse the trend of a dying downtown, but concede it has at least halted the decay.

There still are complaints about parking being insufficient.

Donald Pollard, deputy city manager, says the city recognizes the need and eight large parking garages are being built or planned, plus designs for a new freeway with easy access.

Pollard estimates he has conducted tours for 85 groups from other cities interested in similar projects.

He said the mall has been a big factor in a record $42 million invested downtown in the past two years — more than during the previous 40 years.

Actually, the mall is the existing glamorous showpiece of a redevelopment program that include an 18-block "superblock" and 2,000 outlying acres.

The mall merchants treasure the words of a housewife, who said, "It makes me want to come downtown to shop."

Peace Plan Step To Elections

OAS Given Full Accord, Ending Dominican Crisis

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Organization of American States secured a full agreement today terminating the 4-month-old Dominican crisis.

The peace formula insured the installation of a provisional government Friday as a first step toward general elections in nine months.

Rebel leaders cheered the peace plan. Heads of the armed forces, taking over after the rival civilian-military junta stepped aside, pledged full support to the provisional government.

The peace proposal was signed first by the insurgent regime behind rebel lines Tuesday night. Then Dominican armed forces leaders, meeting at the headquarters of the junta, signed a declaration of support for the peace plan and the provisional government.

The government terminated nearly three months of peace efforts by the three-man OAS political committee of Ambassadors Ellsworth Bunker of the United States, Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador and Ilmar Penna Marinho of Brazil.

His provisional government will negotiate withdrawal of the OAS peace force, composed of 9,000 U.S. and 2,000 Latin-American troops, still patrolling the battle-scarred capital.

The peacekeeping troops took over after the initial U.S. intervention in the rebellion which erupted April 24 in an abortive effort to bring former President Juan D. Bosch back to power.

College's Fiscal Operations Cited In Examiner's Report

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Vigorous action" to collect money due Central State College has been urged in a state examiner's report which held sharp criticism for the college's fiscal operations.

The 82-page report of the examiners criticized "loose handling of tuition and registration fees" and recommended a complete overhaul of the accounting system to place the college on a sound financial basis.

State Auditor Chester W. Goble, in releasing the report Tuesday, said it culminated a seven-month investigation by a team of three examiners. He said that from July 1, 1961 through Dec. 31, 1964, state fees chargeable for tuition and registration at the predominantly Negro school amounted to $1,104,991, of which only $327,560.58 found its way into the state's general revenue fund.

Goble said after adjustments for scholarships, refunds and fees, there remained a net amount of $368,946.86 in unpaid fees which examiners said are of "doubtful collectability."

There was a gathering of officials in Goble's office to review the report. Among those present were Dr. John Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents; John H. Bustamante, Cleveland, newly elected chairman of Central State's trustees and Dr. Lewis A. Jackson, acting president of Central State.

Bustamante said later that the board asked for the audit because of a recent change in the school's administration.

He also said the board had begun some corrective action before the disclosures in the audit.

Man Who Led 2 Lives Meets With His First Family

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—John F. (Fritz) Johnson, whose double life here and in Akron, Ohio, was revealed several months ago, met with his first family this week after a separation of seven years.

Johnson held a reunion with Mary Lou Bader, his Akron wife, and their four children Sunday and Monday at La Grange, Ill., according to Omaha attorney Harry Farnham.

Farnham said not attorneys or other relatives were present at the meeting and the two talked over mutual problems, but no decisions were reached.

Johnson was Lawrence Bader of Akron before he disappeared while on a fishing trip in 1957. A few days later he appeared in Omaha and later married Nancy Zimmer.

The Johnsons had two children. When the double identity was revealed, Fritz and Nancy obtained an annulment of their marriage.

Worker Injured In Job Accident

Edward C. Thompson, son of James Doan of Summitville, was treated for an injury to the right ankle suffered while playing football at Southern Local High School.

MOSCOW (AP)—Heavy floods have struck in the area of two of the Soviet Union's major ports, Tass said today.

The official Soviet news agency did not say whether the two Far Eastern port cities—Vladivostok and Nakhodka—were affected.

U.S. Declaration Of War Seen As Being Ruled Out

The United States has sent a major military force to South Viet Nam, and has Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force units participating actively in the fighting. U.S. servicemen are being killed and wounded, but there has been no declaration of war. Why? Some of the pros and cons of such action, and some results of a formal declaration, are discussed in this analysis.

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A formal declaration of war by the United States in the current Viet Nam conflict would raise so many difficulties that it apparently has been ruled out by U.S. policymakers.

This does not reflect any Washington disbelief in the reality of the bullets puncturing the peace of Southeast Asia. President Johnson has used the word "war" and has pledged an unlimited American commitment to prevent the Reds from taking over South Viet Nam.

However a formal war declaration — a power given Congress under the Constitution — would pose major complications for U. S. strategy, which is tailored to a limited objective and to keeping the contest confined.

Avowedly, the U. S. aim is to help the Saigon government repel an aggression from the north. It is not to overthrow the Hanoi regime ruling North Viet Nam, or to get into war with Red China or the Soviet Union. Furthermore, the Communist attacks in South Viet Nam vary from organized military assaults to isolated terrorist crimes.

If Congress were to declare war, a first question naturally would be: Against whom would war be declared?

The Viet Cong? The United States does not recognize the claims of these Communist guerrillas to being a government, and much of what they do — like murder and arson — can be classed as acts subject to criminal prosecution.

The government of North Viet Nam? The United States says it does not want to destroy this government, which would be a natural objective if war were declared against it.

Red China or the Soviet Union? Washington wants to press its effort in Viet Nam without getting into a fight with the big Communist powers, which a declaration of war against them would involve.

In the big strategic picture a formal U.S. declaration of war would, in the opinion of administration authorities, tend to broaden the conflict when it is in the best U.S. interest to prosecute it in a narrower arena.

If war were declared against North Viet Nam, for instance, neighboring Communist China might decide to get into the fight. So far it has steered clear of direct involvement while U. S. bombers pinpoint targets south of its border.

For the United States an official declaration of war would set off a round of diplomatic consultations with its allies around the world, even though mutual aid pacts might not be invoked.

At home officials believe a declaration of war would have a tremendous psychological impact gearing the nation for an all-out effort — for a Southeast Asian program which today accounts for only a small fraction of the federal budget.

Government lawyers figure that literally hundreds of laws are on the books which would be affected by a declaration of war, including clauses involving such items as shipping and other economic activities, and that further legislation would be passed in a war situation.

As matters now stand the President has the power as commander in chief to send troops to Viet Nam, and Congress has passed additional legislation as needed, they say.

And they note that the United States fought a much larger action in the Korean war without a formal war declaration, for many of the same reasons now applied in the Viet Nam contest.

The State Department says:

"The fact that military hostilities have been taking place in Southeast Asia does not bring about the existence of a state of war, which is a legal characterization of a situation rather than a factual description.

"What we have in Viet Nam is armed aggression from the north against the Republic of Viet Nam.

"Pursuant to South Viet Nam's request and consultations between our two governments, South Viet Nam and the United States are engaged in collective defense against that armed aggression. The inherent right of collective self defense is recognized in Article 51 of the U.N. Charter."

Sen. Mansfield Offers To Clarify Viet Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both sides in the Viet Nam conflict know what they are fighting for, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana said today, and produced his own table of those divergent aims.

The Senate Democratic leader said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery that he aimed at clarification of the issues with the idea that definitions might serve as route markers toward the peace conference table.

Mansfield cautioned against the assumption that "we are engaged in Viet Nam against a group or a government which has no objective except warfare for the sake of warfare."

The Communists, he said, "have a very clear idea of why they fight and of the conditions on which they will cease fighting."

Mansfield, who has been critical at times of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said an examination of statements by Johnson and his principal spokesmen indicate the United States has set these conditions for peace:

1. "There must be a verified choice by the people of South Viet Nam of their own government — a choice free of terrorism, violence and coercion from any quarter."

2. "There can be a future for South Viet Nam either in independence or as a part of a unified Viet Nam in general accord with the Geneva agreements."

2. "There shall be a withdrawal of all foreign forces and bases throughout Viet Nam, North and South" including "adequate international guarantees of noninterference, not only for Viet Nam, but for Laos and Cambodia as well."

Beaver Area Pupils Return

With umbrella in hand, students from the Western and Southern Beaver County areas returned to school Tuesday and today in numbers up slightly from last year.

South Side Schools at Hookstown were the first to return to classes Tuesday and counted 1,074 first-day students, down two from last year. Five hundred nine were enrolled in the high school and 563 in the elementary grades.

Western Beaver School at Industry and the Midland schools returned to classes this morning.

First-day enrollment in the Western Beaver Schools totaled 1,756, up 34 from last year. The high school showed an increase of 12 to 763 and the elementary an increase of 22 to 993.

No figures were available immediately at Midland, but school officials anticipated an enrollment of 1,206, up from the 1,188 in attendance last year.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

There'll Always Be A Schultz

John Banner is a 270-pound Austrian - American actor who has made almost an entire career of playing sputtering comic German soldiers. His latest movie role was as the German sergeant with James Garner and Eva Marie Saint in "36 Hours."

Hal Humphrey

On Sept. 17 the TV audience will see his debut as Sgt. Schultz in the new CBS comedy series, "Hogan's Heroes."

Like many actors, Banner resents being type cast, but not to the extent that he will pass up a steady job.

"THIS FELLOW Schultz on 'Hogan's Heroes' I'm very happy with. It's a miracle I got the part at all. Everything seemed too perfect," he says.

It was more than happenstance which got Banner off on his soldier character. A Czech by the name of Hasek had written a novel called "The Brave Soldier Schweik," which Banner had read.

Schweik was a World War I Austrian private, a hapless fellow who was drawn into trouble in spite of himself. Banner saw Soldier Schweik as a great type to copy as an actor.

"I believe it's wonderful to be able to laugh about militarism," says Banner.

He might have added that it is even necessary to laugh about it every so often if we are to remain sane. Part of his family and many of his friends were victims of the Hitlerian scourge which swept Austria while he was acting at Schauspielhaus in Zurich, Switzerland, under a two-year contract. Following the Anschluss, Banner escaped through Switzerland to the United States in 1938.

IT WASN'T long after arriving here that Banner found himself a soldier in the U.S. Air Corps, and in a rare flash of military perspicacity he was made a supply sergeant.

"But this was a different army. I remember how amazed I was at being able to gripe about everything I didn't like and was told I could even write a letter to my congressman. In Germany I would have been shot for just thinking such a thing," adds Banner, laughing.

As Sgt. Schultz in "Hogan's Heroes", Banner is playing a German guard in a prisoner of war camp who becomes an unwilling ally of the American prisoner Col. Hogan (Bob Crane) and his men through fear of being sent to the Russian front.

"SOME PEOPLE ask me how we can be funny about a prison camp in the war, and I say to them how was it possible to write about two little old ladies who killed 12 men and buried them in the basement and make it funny?

"Well, somebody did, and it was called 'Arsenic and Old Lace.' We'll always be able to laugh at someone flaunting authority," Banner maintains.

In addition to his blimp-type German, Banner has played a variety of Russian and Hungarian types. Now that he's been a naturalized American for many years, however, he is a bit piqued at the number of foreign actors imported for roles in American movies.

"FOR SOME reason," Banner says quite seriously, "Hollywood would rather take foreigners. Now I could have played Goldfinger, but no, they brought over Gert Froebe, who did it well, but there were people here to do it.

"I saw 'Moraturi,' and I find they brought over four German actors for that one. Why is that? I can't work in England or most other countries because they don't want American actors," Banner adds, disgustedly.

Couldn't he work in Germany awhile, then wait for American producers to rediscover him, I asked facetiously.

"SURE, IN Germany, I can work, but they don't make pictures there. There is no money," Banner sputters.

Of course, if "Hogan's Heroes" clicks with the 1,100 Nielsen rating families, and the sponsors' wives have no serious objection to Sgt. Schultz, Banner can be happy he is an American actor with a Viennese accent he can parlay into German, Russian, Swiss or South Slavovian.

Stereophonic recordings accounted for 45 per cent of total LP sales compared with just under 44 per cent in 1963. In stereo, classical albums also were up a per cent; classical comprised over 54 per cent of total stereo sales compared with 53 per cent in 1963.

Johnson Signs Bill In Regard To Killing President

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would make killing, kidnaping or attacking a president a federal crime has been signed into law by President Johnson.

The bill carries out a recommendation of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy. It applies also to the vice president, president - elect, or anyone acting as president.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is given jurisdiction over the investigation of any crime arising under the new law, with local and state jurisdiction suspended for the duration of the inquiry.

Johnson signed the bill last Saturday, the White House announced.

Barnacles and other marine animals foul a ship's bottom soon after launching. After six to eight months in the water, the vessel may have a growth two to three inches thick and weighing upwards of 100 tons. To maintain shipping schedules fuel consumption must often be increased by 50 per cent. Paint or plastic coatings containing poisons are used to discourage the organisms.

Hal Humphrey

On Sept. 17 the TV audience will see his debut as Sgt. Schultz in the new CBS comedy series, "Hogan's Heroes."

Like many actors, Banner resents being type cast, but not to the extent that he will pass up a steady job.

"THIS FELLOW Schultz on 'Hogan's Heroes' I'm very happy with. It's a miracle I got the part at all. Everything seemed too perfect," he says.

It was more than happenstance which got Banner off on his soldier character. A Czech by the name of Hasek had written a novel called "The Brave Soldier Schweik," which Banner had read.

Schweik was a World War I Austrian private, a hapless fellow who was drawn into trouble in spite of himself. Banner saw Soldier Schweik as a great type to copy as an actor.

"I believe it's wonderful to be able to laugh about militarism," says Banner.

He might have added that it is even necessary to laugh about it every so often if we are to remain sane. Part of his family and many of his friends were victims of the Hitlerian scourge which swept Austria while he was acting at Schauspielhaus in Zurich, Switzerland, under a two-year contract. Following the Anschluss, Banner escaped through Switzerland to the United States in 1938.

IT WASN'T long after arriving here that Banner found himself a soldier in the U.S. Air Corps, and in a rare flash of military perspicacity he was made a supply sergeant.

"But this was a different army. I remember how amazed I was at being able to gripe about everything I didn't like and was told I could even write a letter to my congressman. In Germany I would have been shot for just thinking such a thing," adds Banner, laughing.

As Sgt. Schultz in "Hogan's Heroes", Banner is playing a German guard in a prisoner of war camp who becomes an unwilling ally of the American prisoner Col. Hogan (Bob Crane) and his men through fear of being sent to the Russian front.

"SOME PEOPLE ask me how we can be funny about a prison camp in the war, and I say to them how was it possible to write about two little old ladies who killed 12 men and buried them in the basement and make it funny?

"Well, somebody did, and it was called 'Arsenic and Old Lace.' We'll always be able to laugh at someone flaunting authority," Banner maintains.

In addition to his blimp-type German, Banner has played a variety of Russian and Hungarian types. Now that he's been a naturalized American for many years, however, he is a bit piqued at the number of foreign actors imported for roles in American movies.

"FOR SOME reason," Banner says quite seriously, "Hollywood would rather take foreigners. Now I could have played Goldfinger, but no, they brought over Gert Froebe, who did it well, but there were people here to do it.

"I saw 'Moraturi,' and I find they brought over four German actors for that one. Why is that? I can't work in England or most other countries because they don't want American actors," Banner adds, disgustedly.

Couldn't he work in Germany awhile, then wait for American producers to rediscover him, I asked facetiously.

"SURE, IN Germany, I can work, but they don't make pictures there. There is no money," Banner sputters.

Of course, if "Hogan's Heroes" clicks with the 1,100 Nielsen rating families, and the sponsors' wives have no serious objection to Sgt. Schultz, Banner can be happy he is an American actor with a Viennese accent he can parlay into German, Russian, Swiss or South Slavovian.

Phonograph Record Sales Hit New High

NEW YORK (AP) — Phonograph record sales in 1964 sold at an all-time high, the Record Industry Association of America says.

Stereophonic recordings accounted for 45 per cent of total LP sales compared with just under 44 per cent in 1963. In stereo, classical albums also were up a per cent; classical comprised over 54 per cent of total stereo sales compared with 53 per cent in 1963.

Johnson Signs Bill In Regard To Killing President

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would make killing, kidnaping or attacking a president a federal crime has been signed into law by President Johnson.

The bill carries out a recommendation of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy. It applies also to the vice president, president - elect, or anyone acting as president.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is given jurisdiction over the investigation of any crime arising under the new law, with local and state jurisdiction suspended for the duration of the inquiry.

Barnacles and other marine animals foul a ship's bottom soon after launching. After six to eight months in the water, the vessel may have a growth two to three inches thick and weighing upwards of 100 tons. To maintain shipping schedules fuel consumption must often be increased by 50 per cent. Paint or plastic coatings containing poisons are used to discourage the organisms.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teen-ager who spent a good part of the last year in the hospital. I'm not writing for sympathy. I'm writing to let other teen-agers know how lucky they are just to be able to stand on their own two feet and walk from one room to another.

Believe me, Ann, I never appreciated being able to go where I wanted to and do what I wanted to until I was flat on my back for seven months.

It would be crazy to say I'm glad I got sick, but in a way it was the best thing that ever happened to me. It gave me new respect for ordinary things that I used to take for granted. I guess I was just like the man who didn't know how important water was until the well ran dry.

Good health is a great blessing. Without it life doesn't mean a thing. With it, you can accomplish almost anything. — SUNNY SKIES.

Dear Sunny: Your letter is one which adults, as well as teen-agers, should clip out and keep handy as a daily reminder. And I hope you will keep it, too, when you are fully recovered, because it's easy to forget how precious good health is when you have it.

Indignant Divorcee

Dear Ann: Recently a letter appeared in your column which made me see red. A wife, referring to her husband's third cousin, wrote, "If she has any of her looks left after all these years, and if she behaves like most divorcees, it could mean trouble."

I'm a divorcee who deeply resents this generalization. We divorced women have enough trouble making a living, raising well-adjusted children, maintaining our sanity and combating loneliness, without taking insults like that from the peanut gallery.

I know many divorcees who are far more respectable than some married women. Often the divorcee is the victim of a too-early marriage or inadequate parental guidance. Some of us lost our husbands to The Other Woman. Others preferred life alone to putting up with a lying, cheating rat.

"Trouble" is created by individuals, married, single, divorced and widowed. Please make this clear in your column—A DIVORCEE.

Dear Divorcee: For 10 years I've been making it plenty clear. And I'm grateful for letters like yours because they have helped.

Drop-In Pests

Dear Ann: If you come up with a solution to this problem I will be very appreciative and so will my husband.

His sister is a swell person. Estelle and I are the same age and we get along fine. She and her husband live down the street from us, which may be part of the problem.

About twice a week they show up at our front door with their company. Sometimes we know the people and sometimes we don't. Usually it's a Friday or Saturday night or Sunday afternoon. They never call to ask if we have plans. They just come over.

The following morning Estelle usually calls and says, "You sure saved our lives. Those Smiths are such bores Bernie and I would have died if we couldn't have brought them to your place."

My husband and I would like to put a stop to this practice. Is there a way out?—MR. AND MRS. PIGEON.

Dear Mr. and Mrs.: The way out is right through the front door—like this: The next time Estelle and Bernie appear with guests, say, "So sorry we were just leaving." Then get your coats and leave—even if it's only to the corner to pick up another newspaper.

If you do this twice, you won't have to do it a third time.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Congress Gives Final Approval To Urban Group

Johnson has given no hint as to whom he may appoint to the new post, which will bring his cabinet to 11 members.

President John F. Kennedy pushed a similar proposal and announced before hand that he would name as its head Robert C. Weaver, director of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. That would have made Weaver the first Negro member of the cabinet. Kennedy ran into stiff opposition and the move to set up the new department failed then.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — The Rutgers University extension division has announced it will offer additional courses in water supply and water purification this fall because of the current water crisis.

Dear friends,

It is a tribute to the public confidence in funeral directors that over 50% of funerals conducted in this country come from families previously served by that funeral director.

Another large percentage come to a funeral director by recommendation from someone he has previously served. Such public confidence is our greatest satisfaction.

Respectfully,

O'Brien Faces Senate Committee Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — A technician of the political soft sell will fill the job Benjamin Franklin once held when Lawrence F. O'Brien becomes postmaster general.

O'Brien goes before the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee today for questioning on his cabinet nomination announced Sunday by President Johnson.

The political implications of the appointment are not likely to be aired at the hearing. But everyone concerned knows that the freckled, red-haired O'Brien will be settling down in a post where he is likely to become chief political trouble shooter for the President.

It remains to be seen whether he later might succeed John M. Bailey as chairman of the Democratic National Committee — a dual role filled by some of his predecessors.

O'Brien said that his first task will be to "learn something about the job of administering the Post Office Department with its intricate problems." He added with a grin: "I shall hope to retain what I have had since I was a child, an active interest in politics."

Whether it was so intended, the elevation of O'Brien to the Cabinet puts the former aide and close friend of the late President John F. Kennedy firmly in the Johnson camp in any future intraparty rivalry that might develop with the Kennedy brothers.

The appointment gives Johnson a political operator with perhaps the broadest knowledge of any individual in the administration of the problems of members of the Senate and House who will be running in next year's elections.

O'Brien has encountered these problems almost daily in his work as director of White House legislative liaison with Congress. In that job, he has employed the soft sell technique and has left to the President whatever arm-twisting seemed necessary.

Child, 8, Hurt When Bicycle Runs Into Car

An 8-year-old East Liverpool boy escaped with minor injuries Tuesday afternoon when his bicycle struck the side of a halted auto on E. 3rd St. at Crook Alley, police reported.

James A. Walton, son of Arthur Walton, 212 E. 2nd St., was released after treatment at City Hospital for contusions and abrasions of the back.

Descending the steep grade in Crook Alley, the boy's bicycle collided with a 1951 sedan driven by Roland R. McLevey, 25, of 510 W. 5th St., which was halted on E. 3rd St., officers said. The boy said the brakes on his bicycle failed.

McLevey told officers he was driving east when he heard someone shout and saw the boy coming downgrade on the bicycle. He said he halted and the boy's bicycle hit the side of the auto. The front wheel of the bicycle was damaged, officers said.

IT WAS one of a series of six traffic mishaps overnight.

Richard Capehart, 35, of Fisher Park told police two tires on his 1960 two-door sedan were damaged at 3:58 this morning when the vehicle hit an unmarked excavation on Broadway at E. 5th St.

Police said the excavation had been marked with barricades and battery-operated flasher lights, but Capehart reported they were not in place at the time of the mishap. A witness, Gary Carpenter, 318 Alley A, Chester, told officers the barricades apparently had been struck by another vehicle. He said he found one to the right of the excavation and the other about 40 feet away.

Brake failure was blamed for a two-way crash Tuesday at 8:54 p. m. on W. 4th St. at Jefferson St.

The crash damaged a 1954 four-door sedan driven by Robert Silverthorn, 38, of Densmore Ave. and a 1961 auto driven by Frederick E. Eckert, 19, of 338 Thompson Ave., officers said.

Eckert was stopped for a traffic signal when his car was hit from the rear. Silverthorn reported his brakes failed as he approached the intersection. Although he applied the emergency brake, he was unable to stop in time, he said.

A DRIFTING car was blamed for a mishap at Jackson St. and Drury Ln. Tuesday at 7:45 p. m.

A 1962 four-door sedan driven by Lillie Alice Franklin, 36, of 957 W. 8th St. was hit by a drifting 1964 four-door sedan owned by Charles H. Moore, 844 St. George St., officers said.

The woman said Moore's car coasted from a parking spot and hit her car as she made a left turn into Drury Ln. The left rear door and fender of the Franklin auto were damaged.

A collision this morning at 2:11 on Pennsylvania Ave. damaged a 1958 auto driven by Fred McWhorter, 19, of 524 Virginia Ave., Midland, and a 1965 car operated by Harry Keller, 19, of 1573 Pennsylvania Ave.

Both cars were headed east, with McWhorter attempting to pass Keller just as the local man started a left turn into a drive-in restaurant, police said.

Big One Got Away, But He Had The Proof

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP) — Herb Knotts' big fish, caught at the Shriners annual outing, got away, but he has the pictures to prove that it really was a big one. It got away after it was hooked, landed, photographed and weighed.

Knotts caught his big catfish from a boat, on spinning equipment, using a silver spoon. At first he thought his hook was fastened on a log in Chester McCord's lake.

But the fish towed the boat around for 15 minutes and then, with help from men on the bank, it was pulled in and weighed—17 pounds. Several Shriners took pictures.

Then the fish was put on a chain-type stringer with metal snaps and was tied to the pier. Apparently Mr. Cat wasn't too tired by his 15-minute struggle to pull open a snap and swim away.

Immigration, Apportion Bills In 'Power Play'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's immigration bill and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's reapportionment amendment were caught up today in a legislative power play.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said that "some liberal Democrats would rather have a tactical victory over Dirksen" than to win passage of the immigration measure at this session of Congress.

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., another member of the Senate Judiciary Committee where the opposing forces met headon Tuesday, said in a separate interview he does not expect the immigration bill to be killed.

Dirksen blocked committee action on the immigration measure after an 8-8 tie vote stymied his proposed constitutional amendment on redistricting of state legislatures.

Rejects Police Bill

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. John A. Volpe has rejected a bill providing that state police promotions be based on merit. He returned the bill to the legislature without signing it.

West Virginia's Supreme Court Opens Fall Term

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The State Supreme Court opened its fall term today, hearing arguments by six West Virginia Penitentiary inmates seeking release on grounds their rights were violated during their trials.

Most of the attention, however, will focus on a formal opinion expected soon on the court's ruling which invalidated the act calling for a state constitutional convention.

Gov. Hulett Smith said he would await the opinion before deciding whether to call a special session of the legislature to pass a new act.

The court ruled that the apportionment plan for the proposed convention was unconstitutional. The ruling canceled a November election on whether to call a convention.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — All city buses are to have three seats reserved for women, an arrangement intended to provide relief to expectant mothers and women carrying children with them.

Heart Of Stone

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP) — After four power saw blades broke, workmen brought out an ax and discovered that the 80-year-old thorn locust tree they were cutting in Fairview Cemetery had a heart of stone. The tree cutting service said the base of the tree had grown around an old gravestone.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My glass coffee pot gets the oddest sediment I have ever seen — even after boiling just plain water in it two or three times.

Now, what do I do?

DESPERATE.

Dear Desperate: I'm sure this sediment is caused by the minerals in your water supply.

Take a soap-filled pad (steel wool) dampen it with water, and dip it in either salt or plain old baking soda, and scrub away. (In some areas different minerals adhere to different glass particles. Salt works better in some cases, and soda in others. Why, I don't know! I have been told by one water supply company that their water contained some salt, so we found that we got quicker results by using salt in this area.)

HELOISE.

P.S.: Next time you make coffee in that pot, pour me a cupful, won't you?

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I feel so smug when I read some recommendation in your column that I have been doing for years — and so stupid when I read another that is so simple any moron should have thought of it . . . BUT I DIDN'T.

MARGUERITE.

DEAR HELOISE: This hint is from a friend:

He put a piece of grosgrain ribbon from corner to corner, near the ceiling in his son's bedroom.

He fastens this ribbon by using a small picture hook in each corner, and putting a loop in each end of the ribbon so it is easy to attach or to take off whenever necessary.

His son can then pin up his pennant collection with straight pins, and the walls are not marred with tacks.

THELMA R.

DEAR HELOISE: If you will take a quart-size bleach bottle, cut it off two or three inches below the neck and insert a short, round stick into the mouth of the bottle, you will have a wonderful, little "hand laundry."

Saves wear and tear on hands, and things come out really clean after being gently swished around and up and down in the sudsy water with this little gadget.

DORIS J. E.

Wonderful!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: No more worries about limp handkerchiefs for hubby's or boy's breast coat pocket, if you starch them!

Also, cut a piece of cardboard one inch longer and one-half inch narrower than the pocket, and keep near your ironing board.

MRS. EMERY STEWART.

DEAR HELOISE: If you own a pair of shoes on which the heel is a different color —like my white flats which have brown heels — put a piece of cellophane tape around the heel and polish away.

After the shoes are dry, simple remove the tape, and presto — the heels are perfect!

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child Needs Playmate Her Own Age

The child under eight or ten who has no playmates in the neighborhood near his age, even if there are many older or younger children there, may have a hard time of it. A mother writes from South Dakota: "We have two girls, seven and one-and-a-half. We had no trouble till we moved into this neighborhood about a year ago. The seven-year-old is my problem. She's a nervous child, but its gotten worse.

Dr. Garry Myers

"The other day she wanted to go to the drugstore and I said, 'No.' She stamped her foot and cried. Some mornings when she gets up and we say, 'Good morning,' she just ignores us. While outside there are no children her age; all a year or two younger or older. She she feels left out.

—:—

THE TWO six-year-old girls stick together; the same with the eight-year-olds.

"The six-year-old across the street told my girl yesterday that she disliked her and didn't want to play and ran home. Naturally my child came in crying. She had no one to play with.

"What I'm wondering about is: Is my child to blame for all this trouble and unhappiness she has and what can we do to help?"

My reply in part:

My guess is that your older child feels she doesn't stand in the family as well as her little baby sister, that she suffers greatly from jealousy.

Try, you and Dad, to find ways, with the help of your relatives and friends, to build up this girl and make her feel more worthwhile. It's not the fault of your child that the older neighbor children snub her. Blame it on the fact she is younger than they are and that she has no other playmates of her age.

SHE NEEDS to be with children of her age. Her baby sister can't be a good playmate. Hardly can the older children be. Try to attract some children to your home near her age and go to a few homes where such children are. Perhaps she could bring home some of her classmates with permission of their parents.

My bulletins "Your Child and His Playmates," and "Preventing and Reducing Jealousy" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Attorney Cites Qualifications In Election Win

BATESVILLE, Miss. (AP) — William E. Corr, a 29-year-old Sardis attorney, says his victory as the first Republican elected to the Mississippi Senate since Reconstruction, is based on qualifications and not party affiliation.

Corr won the Panola County seat in the 52-member Senate Tuesday by defeating Billie Lowe in a special election runoff. The election was called to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. J. Roland Lowe of Batesville, Mrs. Lowe's husband.

"The party issue was a minor part of the campaign," Corr said. He polled 1,765 votes to 853 for Mrs. Lowe.

Corr describes himself as a conservative. He said he was an active supporter of GOP nominee Barry Goldwater in the 1964 presidential campaign.

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My glass coffee pot gets the oddest sediment I have ever seen — even after boiling just plain water in it two or three times.

It is all chalky-looking.

Now, what do I do?

DESPERATE.

Dear Desperate: I'm sure this sediment is caused by the minerals in your water supply.

Take a soap-filled pad (steel wool) dampen it with water, and dip it in either salt or plain old baking soda, and scrub away. (In some areas different minerals adhere to different glass particles. Salt works better in some cases, and soda in others. Why, I don't know! I have been told by one water supply company that their water contained some salt, so we found that we got quicker results by using salt in this area.)

HELOISE.

P.S.: Next time you make coffee in that pot, pour me a cupful, won't you?

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I feel so smug when I read some recommendation in your column that I have been doing for years — and so stupid when I read another that is so simple any moron should have thought of it . . . BUT I DIDN'T.

MARGUERITE.

DEAR HELOISE: This hint is from a friend:

He put a piece of grosgrain ribbon from corner to corner, near the ceiling in his son's bedroom.

He fastens this ribbon by using a small picture hook in each corner, and putting a loop in each end of the ribbon so it is easy to attach or to take off whenever necessary.

His son can then pin up his pennant collection with straight pins, and the walls are not marred with tacks.

THELMA R.

DEAR HELOISE: If you will take a quart-size bleach bottle, cut it off two or three inches below the neck and insert a short, round stick into the mouth of the bottle, you will have a wonderful, little "hand laundry."

Saves wear and tear on hands, and things come out really clean after being gently swished around and up and down in the sudsy water with this little gadget.

DORIS J. E.

Wonderful!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: No more worries about limp handkerchiefs for hubby's or boy's breast coat pocket, if you starch them!

Also, cut a piece of cardboard one inch longer and one-half inch narrower than the pocket, and keep near your ironing board.

If there are initials or a monogram on the handkerchiefs, have them at the center top.

MRS. EMERY STEWART.

DEAR HELOISE: If you own a pair of shoes on which the heel is a different color —like my white flats which have brown heels — put a piece of cellophane tape around the heel and polish away.

After the shoes are dry, simple remove the tape, and presto — the heels are perfect!

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child Needs Playmate Her Own Age

The child under eight or ten who has no playmates in the neighborhood near his age, even if there are many older or younger children there, may have a hard time of it. A mother writes from South Dakota: "We have two girls, seven and one-and-a-half. We had no trouble till we moved into this neighborhood about a year ago. The seven-year-old is my problem. She's a nervous child, but its gotten worse.

Dr. Garry Myers

"The other day she wanted to go to the drugstore and I said, 'No.' She stamped her foot and cried. Some mornings when she gets up and we say, 'Good morning,' she just ignores us. While outside there are no children her age; all a year or two younger or older. She she feels left out.

—:—

THE TWO six-year-old girls stick together; the same with the eight-year-olds.

"The six-year-old across the street told my girl yesterday that she disliked her and didn't want to play and ran home. Naturally my child came in crying. She had no one to play with.

"What I'm wondering about is: Is my child to blame for all this trouble and unhappiness she has and what can we do to help?"

My reply in part:

My guess is that your older child feels she doesn't stand in the family as well as her little baby sister, that she suffers greatly from jealousy.

Try, you and Dad, to find ways, with the help of your relatives and friends, to build up this girl and make her feel more worthwhile. It's not the fault of your child that the older neighbor children snub her. Blame it on the fact she is younger than they are and that she has no other playmates of her age.

SHE NEEDS to be with children of her age. Her baby sister can't be a good playmate. Hardly can the older children be. Try to attract some children to your home near her age and go to a few homes where such children are. Perhaps she could bring home some of her classmates with permission of their parents.

My bulletins "Your Child and His Playmates," and "Preventing and Reducing Jealousy" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Attorney Cites Qualifications In Election Win

BATESVILLE, Miss. (AP) — William E. Corr, a 29-year-old Sardis attorney, says his victory as the first Republican elected to the Mississippi Senate since Reconstruction, is based on qualifications and not party affiliation.

Corr won the Panola County seat in the 52-member Senate Tuesday by defeating Billie Lowe in a special election runoff. The election was called to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. J. Roland Lowe of Batesville, Mrs. Lowe's husband.

"The party issue was a minor part of the campaign," Corr said. He polled 1,765 votes to 853 for Mrs. Lowe.

Corr describes himself as a conservative. He said he was an active supporter of GOP nominee Barry Goldwater in the 1964 presidential campaign.

Hospitals Due Forms On Rights Compliance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Federal forms are going out shortly to every hospital and medical facility in the nation to determine if there is complete civil rights compliance—such as allowing a Negro and a white to share the same hospital room.

"These reports, which are judicially enforceable, will be spotchecked by compliance visits by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare from coast to coast," James M. Quigley told the American Hospital Association today in a prepared address. Quigley is an HEW assistant secretary.

Of 225 complaints of discrimination so far investigated, "only a handful were unfounded," Quigley said.

3 Leopard Cubs Die At Cincinnati Zoo

CINCINNATI (AP)— Three rare Persian leopard cubs died at the Cincinnati Zoo Tuesday despite the life squad's efforts to save them. Squadmen administered oxygen for 45 minutes.

General curator Edward Maruska said the cubs were delivered by caesarian section and their 4-year-old mother, Shiraz, appeared to have trouble giving birth. Maruska said the white-haired cubs would have been worth about $9,000.

Child, 8, Hurt When Bicycle Runs Into Car

An 8-year-old East Liverpool boy escaped with minor injuries Tuesday afternoon when his bicycle struck the side of a halted auto on E. 3rd St. at Crook Alley, police reported.

James A. Walton, son of Arthur Walton, 212 E. 2nd St., was released after treatment at City Hospital for contusions and abrasions of the back.

Descending the steep grade in Crook Alley, the boy's bicycle collided with a 1951 sedan driven by Roland R. McLevey, 25, of 510 W. 5th St., which was halted on E. 3rd St., officers said. The boy said the brakes on his bicycle failed.

McLevey told officers he was driving east when he heard someone shout and saw the boy coming downgrade on the bicycle. He said he halted and the boy's bicycle hit the side of the auto. The front wheel of the bicycle was damaged, officers said.

IT WAS one of a series of six traffic mishaps overnight.

Richard Capehart, 35, of Fisher Park told police two tires on his 1960 two-door sedan were damaged at 3:58 this morning when the vehicle hit an unmarked excavation on Broadway at E. 5th St.

Police said the excavation had been marked with barricades and battery-operated flasher lights, but Capehart reported they were not in place at the time of the mishap. A witness, Gary Carpenter, 318 Alley A, Chester, told officers the barricades apparently had been struck by another vehicle. He said he found one to the right of the excavation and the other about 40 feet away.

Brake failure was blamed for a two-way crash Tuesday at 7:54 p. m. on W. 4th St. at Jefferson St.

The crash damaged a 1954 four-door sedan driven by Robert Silverthorn, 38, of Densmore Ave. and a 1961 auto driven by Frederick E. Eckert, 19, of 338 Thompson Ave., officers said.

Eckert was stopped for a traffic signal when his car was hit from the rear. Silverthorn reported his brakes failed as he approached the intersection. Although he applied the emergency brake, he was unable to stop in time, he said.

Larry Spencer, 1009 Florence St., told police the left rear fender of his 1964 model half-ton pickup truck was damaged by a hit-skip vehicle about 12:13 this morning while it was parked on Dresden Ave. 40 feet south of Smith St.

A DRIFTING car was blamed for a mishap at Jackson St. and Drury Ln. Tuesday at 7:45 p. m.

A 1962 four-door sedan driven by Lillie Alice Franklin, 36, of 957 W. 8th St. was hit by a drifting 1964 four-door sedan owned by Charles H. Moore, 844 St. George St., officers said.

The woman said Moore's car coasted from a parking spot and hit her car as she made a left turn into Drury Ln. The left rear door and fender of the Franklin auto were damaged.

A collision this morning at 2:11 on Pennsylvania Ave. damaged a 1958 auto driven by Fred McWhorter, 19, of 524 Virginia Ave., Midland, and a 1965 car operated by Harry Keller, 19, of 1573 Pennsylvania Ave.

Both cars were headed east, with McWhorter attempting to pass Keller just as the local man started a left turn into a drive-in restaurant, police said.

Big One Got Away, But He Had The Proof

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP) — Herb Knotts' big fish, caught at the Shriners annual outing, got away, but he has the pictures to prove that it really was a big one. It got away after it was hooked, landed, photographed and weighed.

Knotts caught his big catfish from a boat, on spinning equipment, using a silver spoon. At first he thought his hook was fastened on a log in Chester McCord's lake.

But the fish towed the boat around for 15 minutes and then, with help from men on the bank, it was pulled in and weighed—17 pounds. Several Shriners took pictures.

Then the fish was put on a chain-type stringer with metal straps and was tied to the pier. Apparently Mr. Cat wasn't too fired by his 15-minute struggle to pull open a snap and swim away.

Hawaii's true hula is far removed from the versions performed on American stages. The hula was an ancient religious dance whose purpose was not entertainment but communication of godly principle. The gestures have symbolic meanings.

Immigration, Apportion Bills In 'Power Play'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's immigration bill and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's reapportionment amendment were caught up today in a legislative power play.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said that "some liberal Democrats would rather have a tactical victory over Dirksen" than to win passage of the immigration measure at this session of Congress.

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., another member of the Senate Judiciary Committee where the opposing forces met headon Tuesday, said in a separate interview he does not expect the immigration bill to be killed.

Dirksen blocked committee action on the immigration measure after an 8-8 tie vote stymied his proposed constitutional amendment on redistricting of state legislatures.

Rejects Police Bill

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. John A. Volpe has rejected a bill providing that state police promotions be based on merit. He returned the bill to the legislature without signing it.

West Virginia's Supreme Court Opens Fall Term

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The State Supreme Court opened its fall term today, hearing arguments by six West Virginia Penitentiary inmates seeking release on grounds their rights were violated during their trials.

Most of the attention, however, will focus on a formal opinion expected soon on the court's ruling which invalidated the act calling for a state constitutional convention.

Gov. Hulett Smith said he would await the opinion before deciding whether to call a special session of the legislature to pass a new act.

The court ruled that the apportionment plan for the proposed convention was unconstitutional. The ruling canceled a November election on whether to call a convention.

Seats For Women

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — All city buses are to have three seats reserved for women, an arrangement intended to provide relief to expectant mothers and women carrying children with them.

Heart Of Stone

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP) — After four power saw blades broke, workmen brought out an ax and discovered that the 80-year-old thorn locust tree they were cutting in Fairview Cemetery had a heart of stone. The tree cutting service said the base of the tree had grown around an old gravestone.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My glass coffee pot gets the oddest sediment I have ever seen — even after boiling just plain water in it two or three times.

It is all chalky-looking.

Now, what do I do?

DESPERATE.

Dear Desperate: I'm sure this sediment is caused by the minerals in your water supply.

Take a soap-filled pad (steel wool) dampen it with water, and dip it in either salt or plain old baking soda, and scrub away. (In some areas different minerals adhere to different glass particles. Salt works better in some cases, and soda in others. Why, I don't know! I have been told by one water supply company that their water contained some salt, so we found that we got quicker results by using salt in this area.)

HELOISE.

P.S.: Next time you make coffee in that pot, pour me a cupful, won't you?

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I feel so smug when I read some recommendation in your column that I have been doing for years — and so stupid when I read another that is so simple any moron should have thought of it . . . BUT I DIDN'T.

DEAR HELOISE: This hint is from a friend:

He put a piece of grosgrain ribbon from corner to corner, near the ceiling in his son's bedroom.

He fastens this ribbon by using a small picture hook in each corner, and putting a loop in each end of the ribbon so it is easy to attach or to take off whenever necessary.

His son can then pin up his pennant collection with straight pins, and the walls are not marred with tacks.

THELMA R.

DEAR HELOISE: If you will take a quart-size bleach bottle, cut it off two or three inches below the neck and insert a short, round stick into the mouth of the bottle, you will have a wonderful, little "hand laundry."

Saves wear and tear on hands, and things come out really clean after being gently swished around and up and down in the sudsy water with this little gadget.

DORIS J. E.

Wonderful!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: No more worries about limp handkerchiefs for hubby's or boy's breast coat pocket, if you starch them!

Also, cut a piece of cardboard one inch longer and one-half inch narrower than the pocket, and keep near your ironing board.

If there are initials or a monogram on the handkerchiefs, have them at the center top.

DEAR HELOISE: If you own a pair of shoes on which the heel is a different color —like my white flats which have brown heels — put a piece of cellophane tape around the heel and polish away.

After the shoes are dry, simple remove the tape, and presto — the heels are perfect!

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child Needs Playmate Her Own Age

The child under eight or ten who has no playmates in the neighborhood near his age, even if there are many older or younger children there, may have a hard time of it. A mother writes from South Dakota: "We have two girls, seven and one-and-a-half. We had no trouble till we moved into this neighborhood about a year ago. The seven-year-old is my problem. She's a nervous child, but its gotten worse.

Dr. Garry Myers

"The other day she wanted to go to the drugstore and I said, 'No.' She stamped her foot and cried. Some mornings when she gets up and we say, 'Good morning,' she just ignores us. While outside there are no children her age; all a year or two younger or older. She she feels left out.

THE TWO six-year-old girls stick together; the same with the eight-year-olds.

"The six-year-old across the street told my girl yesterday that she disliked her and didn't want to play and ran home. Naturally my child came in crying. She had no one to play with.

"What I'm wondering about is: Is my child to blame for all this trouble and unhappiness she has and what can we do to help?"

My reply in part:

My guess is that your older child feels she doesn't stand in the family as well as her little baby sister, that she suffers greatly from jealousy.

Try, you and Dad, to find ways, with the help of your relatives and friends, to build up this girl and make her feel more worthwhile. It's not the fault of your child that the older neighbor children snub her. Blame it on the fact she is younger than they are and that she has no other playmates of her age.

SHE NEEDS to be with children of her age. Her baby sister can't be a good playmate. Hardly can the older children be. Try to attract some children to your home near her age and go to a few homes where such children are. Perhaps she could bring home some of her classmates with permission of their parents.

My bulletins "Your Child and His Playmates," and "Preventing and Reducing Jealousy" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Hospitals Due Forms On Rights Compliance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Federal forms are going out shortly to every hospital and medical facility in the nation to determine if there is complete civil rights compliance—such as allowing a Negro and a white to share the same hospital room.

"These reports, which are judicially enforceable, will be spotchecked by compliance visits by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare from coast to coast," James M. Quigley told the American Hospital Association today in a prepared address. Quigley is an HEW assistant secretary.

Of 225 complaints of discrimination so far investigated, "only a handful were unfounded," Quigley said.

3 Leopard Cubs Die At Cincinnati Zoo

CINCINNATI (AP)— Three rare Persian leopard cubs died at the Cincinnati Zoo Tuesday despite the life squad's efforts to save them. Squadmen administered oxygen for 45 minutes.

General curator Edward Maruska said the cubs were delivered by caesarian section and their 4-year-old mother, Shiraz, appeared to have trouble giving birth. Maruska said the white-haired cubs would have been worth about $9,000.

Attorney Cites Qualifications In Election Win

BATESVILLE, Miss. (AP) — William E. Corr, a 29-year-old Sardis attorney, says his victory as the first Republican elected to the Mississippi Senate since Reconstruction, is based on qualifications and not party affiliation.

Corr won the Panola County seat in the 52-member Senate Tuesday by defeating Billie Lowe in a special election runoff. The election was called to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. J. Roland Lowe of Batesville, Mrs. Lowe's husband.

"The party issue was a minor part of the campaign," Corr said. He polled 1,765 votes to 853 for Mrs. Lowe.

Corr describes himself as a conservative. He said he was an active supporter of GOP nominee Barry Goldwater in the 1964 presidential campaign.

Today In History

BY The Associated Press

On this date in 1916, Congress passed the Keating-Owen Act, a roundabout way of prohibiting child labor, which reformers had fought for 100 years. The law was ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court in 1918 as an invasion of states' rights.

On this date

In 1850, Jenny Lind, the "Swedish Nightingale," arrived in New York.

In 1862, liquor rations were abolished in the U.S. Navy.

In 1945, Japan surrendered formally aboard the battleship Missouri at 8:08 p.m. Eastern War Time—9:08 Sept. 2 Tokyo time.

Ten years ago—The government reported cash dividends by corporations were running 10 per cent over the previous year.

Five years ago — Secretary of State Christian Herter, at an American Bar Association dinner in Washington, charged that Russia was trying to complicate, rather than aid, U.N. peace efforts in the Congo.

One year ago—The Navy disclosed that Lt. Charles Klusmann, shot down June 6 over Laos, had escaped from the Communist-led Pathet Lao.

Odd Facts

The typewriter goes back to 1714, the National Geographic says. In that year, Queen Anne of England granted a patent to Henry Mills, a London engineer, for a device to reproduce letters "so neat and exact as to not be distinguished from print."

Insects are the most experienced fliers in the world. They have been airborne for some 200 million years. During half that time, insects had the air to themselves.

United States astronauts spend 50 hours a week for two to five years training for a single flight.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOBY DICK

QUESTION: Was there really a Moby Dick?

ANSWER: Moby Dick was the name of a vicious white whale who is the villian of Herman Mellville's famous novel, Moby Dick, published in 1851 and regarded as one of the greatest books written in America. In the book, Capt. Ahab of the whaleship Pequod roams the seas in search of this one particular whale, which once had bitten off one of his legs. Ahab is determined to kill Moby Dick as a matter of personal revenge. His fierce chase after the whale makes thrilling reading.

This story sounds fantastic, but it had much foundation in fact. When a particularly savage whale had been attacked several times and escaped (usually with a number of harpoons still attached) it might become a "rogue" and attempt to kill men and smash boats and ships. Such a whale would become known across the oceans, and sailors would call him by a certain name. Mellville had been a whaleman himself, and had heard a famous rogue whale, Moby Dick, spoken of. So the reply to our questioner is that there really was a Moby Dick. Mellville's story, Moby Dick, however, should be taken as fictional, even if there is much truth about the thrilling occupation of whaling as practiced many years ago.

MOBY DICK

QUESTION: Was there really a Moby Dick?

ANSWER: Moby Dick was the name of a vicious white whale who is the villian of Herman Mellville's famous novel, Moby Dick, published in 1851 and regarded as one of the greatest books written in America. In the book, Capt. Ahab of the whaleship Pequod roams the seas in search of this one particular whale, which once had bitten off one of his legs. Ahab is determined to kill Moby Dick as a matter of personal revenge. His fierce chase after the whale makes thrilling reading.

This story sounds fantastic, but it had much foundation in fact. When a particularly savage whale had been attacked several times and escaped (usually with a number of harpoons still attached) it might become a "rogue" and attempt to kill men and smash boats and ships. Such a whale would become known across the oceans, and sailors would call him by a certain name. Mellville had been a whaleman himself, and had heard a famous rogue whale, Moby Dick, spoken of. So the reply to our questioner is that there really was a Moby Dick. Mellville's story, Moby Dick, however, should be taken as fictional, even if there is much truth about the thrilling occupation of whaling as practiced many years ago.

Today In History

BY The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1916, Congress passed the Keating-Owen Act, a roundabout way of prohibiting child labor, which reformers had fought for 100 years. The law was ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court in 1918 as an invasion of states' rights.

On this date

In 1862, liquor rations were abolished in the U.S. Navy.

In 1945, Japan surrendered formally aboard the battleship Missouri at 8:08 p.m. Eastern War Time—9:08 Sept. 2 Tokyo time.

Ten years ago—The government reported cash dividends by corporations were running 10 per cent over the previous year.

Five years ago — Secretary of State Christian Herter, at an American Bar Association dinner in Washington, charged that Russia was trying to complicate, rather than aid, U.N. peace efforts in the Congo.

Odd Facts

The typewriter goes back to 1714, the National Geographic says. In that year, Queen Anne of England granted a patent to Henry Mills, a London engineer, for a device to reproduce letters "so neat and exact as to not be distinguished from print."

Insects are the most experienced fliers in the world. They have been airborne for some 200 million years. During half that time, insects had the air to themselves.

United States astronauts spend 50 hours a week for two to five years training for a single flight.
